Pickaway County Historical Sites Marked In Pamphlet

By ANDREA PORTER
Journalism Intern

Pickaway County has started its celebration of the Bicentennial year with an informative pamphlet on the historical sites of the area.

Thirty-six locations have been researched by the county's Bicentennial Commission and included in the pamphlet. It describes the places, marks them on a county map and labels them so the people of the area can locate them if they are interested in a first-hand look at the history of the area.

The Bicentennial Commission has compiled this pamphlet through the efforts of two groups. The Historical Sites Committee, headed by Mrs. Ray W. Davis, was in charge of gathering the information. The Bicentennial Industrial Committee contributed financially and manually, according to its chairman, Dale R. Minor.

The pamphlet was designed for individuals or groups to plan their own tour of the area. Each site is marked and labeled on the map for easy reference to the landmark. The pamphlet can be picked up at the Historical Museum or at the Chamber of Commerce building.

Mrs. Davis said this is the first of a four-fold project in honor of the celebration. The other parts include restoration of the room next door to the Chamber building on W. Main St. a tour of old homes, and an exhibit of Indian artifacts.

Mrs. Davis said her committee started last October preparing the information for the pamphlet. Her committee members are; Mrs. K. E. Dountz, Mrs. O. C. West, Mrs. David Yates, Miss Nell Oesterle, Wallace Higgins, and R. E. Haecker.

The Herald will be featuring one area each week in a series dedicated to the Bicentennial.

The industrial committee contributed financial support, material donations and labor from its employees. It is made up of P.P.G. Industries, RCA, Container Corporation, General Electric, DuPont, J. W. Eshelman, Owens-Illinois, Reynolds Metals, USS Chemicals and Ralston Purina.

Each building included in the pamphlet will be presented a plaque in the shape of the state of Ohio. Three of the buildings already have them. The plaques are being made by students at the Pickaway-Ross Vocational School.

Mrs. Davis said her committee collected the information from county histories, the owners of the property, county records and from articles already written for the Pickaway Quarterly Magazine.

The historical sites in the county are: Grist Mill in Darby Twp., Chief Darby's Town in Darbyville and on the London Turnpike, there is the Toll House and Florence Cemetery.

Fox is the location of the Jackson Twp. Centralized School, and Deer-creek Twp. has the Sulphur Spring, Christian Cemetery and Bazole's Mill. The William Barthelmas house and Kiskopo are located on Route 104.

The Ohio Canal is on Canal Road, the Ashville Lock in Harrison Twp., and Madison High School, in Madison Twp. Walnut Twp. hosts the Snake Den Mound, Stage's Pond, Glenn Hay House, Otterbein Monument and the Nebraska Grange.

Circleville is the location of 12 of the historical areas. These are Maguck, Groce Packing Co., Ruggles Packing Co., Container Corporation, Goeller Broom Factory, Electric Co., Old Second National Bank, Pickaway County Museum, Doddridge house, Charles May house, Samuel Moore house, and the Fickardt house.

Located in Pickaway Twp. are Camp Circleville, Jefferson Village, Cornstalk's Village, Grenadier Squaw Town and Mount Oval. Stumpf Cemetery is located in Saltcreek Twp.

New Russia Wheat Deal Unconfirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union is taking steps to purchase large quantities of grain from the United States and Canada, two London newspapers report.

However, Agriculture Department officials and spokesmen for major U.S. grain firms said they were unable to confirm that large Russian purchases were in the offing.

The London Times and the Financial Times said today the Russians were trying to keep the purchases secret by negotiating through third parties for ships to carry the grain to Soviet ports.

The London Times said drought in the Soviet Union has led the Russians to book up to three million metric tons of grain from Canada and to make provisional bookings with shippers for up to seven million metric tons from the United States.

The newspaper said one of the third parties discussing ship charters with the Russians was Glenas, identified as a Panamanian-registered firm equipped with Swiss bank guarantees working through Paris brokers.

Richard E. Bell, a deputy assistant secretary of agriculture, said U.S. government officials were aware of the reports but still were trying to confirm them.

"We are aware that the Soviets are chartering vessels for shipment of grain from North America to the Baltic Sea and Black Sea," Bell said.

He noted that U.S. exporters only are required to report sales of 100,000 tons or more within 24 hours after the deal is concluded.

He said lack of rainfall is known to have affected spring wheat production in parts of the Soviet Union. By contrast, a bumper wheat crop is being forecast for the United States.

Spokesmen for two of the largest U.S. grain dealers, Cargill and Cook Industries, said they know of no such transactions.

The reports of Soviet grain purchases are circulating on the third anniversary of an historic U.S. credit deal that helped pave the way for Moscow to buy huge amounts of American grain in 1972.

After the short 1972 harvest, Russia went all-out to boost grain output and in 1973 produced a record 222.5 million metric tons, compared with about 168 million in 1972. Last year's harvest was about 195 million tons, the second largest on record.

Soviet leaders had set a goal of about 215 million tons for 1975 production, but U.S. officials recently estimated Russian output would be about 200 million tons and that this could be reduced even further if drought conditions were not relieved quickly in major grain areas.

Ford Officially Announces Bid For Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gerald Rudolph Ford, the first man to become vice president and then President without election, announced today he is a candidate for the presidency in 1976.

Ford, who made his longpromised announcement in a low-key statement at the White House, said he hopes to project the image of a president rather than a campaigner.

A congressman from Michigan for a quarter century, he was named vice president by former President Richard M. Nixon in 1973 when Spiro T. Agnew resigned because of a graft scandal. Ford became President on Aug. 9, 1974, when Nixon resigned under the weight of Watergate.

Before he became vice president, Ford planned to serve one more term in the House of Representatives, then retire from politics. As vice-president designate, he told Congress he would not run in 1976. But 10 weeks after becoming President, he told an interviewer, "I just love it. It's got my adrenalin going again."

He said then that he probably would seek election in his own right because a two-year presidency would not be sufficient to do the things that needed doing in foreign and domestic affairs.

After making it known in recent weeks that he would seek election next year, Ford was advised by some aides to make his plans known formally but without fanfare. They contended a simple, businesslike statement of candidacy would permit him to continue emphasizing his presidential role rather than the role of an office-seeker.

Press Secretary Ron Nessen declined to say Monday when Ford's announcement would come. He told newsmen:

"I'm just not going to get into a guessing game ... He's not going to do it in secret."

Ford first signaled his intent to seek election less than a month after he succeeded Richard M. Nixon to the presidency last Aug. 9.

Just 18 days ago, Ford authorized the formal creation of a "President Ford Committee" to finance and operate his pre-convention campaign. Howard H. "Bo" Callaway last week resigned as secretary of the Army to become campaign chairman.

The President made one of his few political appearances of the year at a Republican fundraising supper in Cleveland last Thursday. However he plans a lot of traveling both here and abroad, most of it avowedly non-political, during the balance of this pre-election year.

Human Guinea Pigs Test Experimental New Drugs

MIAMI (AP) — Lured by money, an unemployed clown, a furloughed construction worker and an idled machinist were volunteer human guinea pigs for experimental drugs.

They are among applicants who answered an advertisement for "healthy males needed for medical research project." The fees vary from $50 to $250 for tests which range in length from two days to two weeks.

"There's always a risk," admits Dr. Albert Cohen of Peninsular Testing Co., which tests drugs for pharmaceutical companies before the U.S. Food and Drug Administration will accept them for marketing.

"The first time I was scared to death," said Larry Hodges, 23, a sometime construction worker who has returned for 10 experiments.

He had just completed a test on an antidepressant in a program calling for a single dosage and a week's stay at the Miami testing center.

The drugs involved are what Dr. Allan Lisook, an FDA research scientist in Rockville, Md., calls "Phase 1" test programs in which drugs are used on humans for the first time.

Since the FDA first began requiring the tests in 1963, there have been "no instances of permanent harm to any subject," Lisook said. He said the drugs are first tested on laboratory animals.

Volunteers last week also included Dennis Wray, 33, a machinist trying to earn money to support a wife and daughter. He tried an anticoagulant in his first test and said he may sign up again if he can't find steady work.

Prisoner Grabs Judge, Prosecutor

PARIS (AP) — A prisoner being tried in a Paris criminal court today shot two guards and took the court president and a prosecutor hostage as he escaped.

Witnesses said that a woman disguised as a lawyer had entered the courtroom with a grenade which she threatened to explode and handed a pistol to the prisoner.

There was no immediate word on the condition of the guards.

Richard "Jingles" Hornada said he's a veteran tester who's saving money to catch up with his traveling circus.

Hodges said he's selective about the injections he'll take even though it is easy money.

"Once they had one that called for 56 hits in the rear end, and I told them, 'No way!'" he said.

But Lisook said the tests are vital for developing life-saving drugs — "Somebody's got to be the first to try it."

Inspection Of Grain Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — A group representing grain inspectors said today it opposed suggestions for increased government involvement in grain inspection, basing its opposition on inspection performance records.

The inspectors, licensed by the Agriculture Department, are at the heart of several investigations of corruption in the grain export industry. Twenty persons, most of them inspectors, have been indicted in New Orleans and Houston in connection with the federal probe.

Virgil A. McNamee, a director of the National Association of Chief Grain Inspectors, said in a statement prepared for two Senate agriculture subcommittees holding a joint hearing that federal inspections of grain destined for export "would not improve the quality" of the commodity.

He also said that if the federal government inspects the grain "there would be no separate group to perform appeals."

Grain inspection is carried out by private firms, boards of trade or state agencies to guarantee compliance with the U.S. Grain Standards Act, regulating overseas shipment of U.S. grain.

Foreign purchasers of the grain have complained that it has been misgraded and contaminated and that they have received less grain than the amount for which they paid.

Airline Regulation Changes Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — An experimental program proposed by the Civil Aeronautics Board would let the nation's airlines raise or lower their fares and start or suspend their service on certain routes without first getting board approval.

The proposal announced by the board Monday came as an apparent move to head off increasing pressure from the Ford administration and Congress for reform of the CAB's regulation of the airlines.

Neither the White House nor the Department of Transportation was consulted or informed of the board's plans in advance, said Howard Cohen,

Recycling Of Tires Planned

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — A self-fueling test plant to recycle 11 million scrap tires annually will be built by Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and The Oil Shale Corp. (TOSCO), the firms said Monday.

The plant, which is expected to process about 15 tons of old tires a day beginning early next year, will recover the oil, steel and carbon black contained in the tires, the firms said.

The test facility at Rocky Flats, Colo., is expected to be the forerunner of factories that could recycle millions of scrap tires, the firms said.

Goodyear said it plans to build a full-scale center when the test plant has proved successful.

The full-scale plant, proposed for 1977 at a cost of $18 million, would produce its own gas for fuel. It also would recover 14 million gallons of oil, 10 million pounds of steel and 63 million pounds of carbon black annually, Goodyear said.

The materials recovered can be used for new tires and also "would help eliminate growing mountains of scrap tires," the firm said. It said 15 such plants could recycle the 165 million tires scrapped last year in the United States.

Airline Regulation Changes Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — An experimental program proposed by the Civil Aeronautics Board would let the nation's airlines raise or lower their fares and start or suspend their service on certain routes without first getting board approval.

The proposal announced by the board Monday came as an apparent move to head off increasing pressure from the Ford administration and Congress for reform of the CAB's regulation of the airlines.

Neither the White House nor the Department of Transportation was consulted or informed of the board's plans in advance, said Howard Cohen, special counsel to the CAB chairman. Critics of the CAB have claimed that the board's regulations have discouraged more efficient airlines from entering markets and have helped air fares to climb.

They have suggested that airlines be given more freedom to start or stop their service to cities — thus bringing more competition to certain routes — and to raise or lower their prices to meet the changing travel market.

The legislation the Ford administration is preparing reportedly would accomplish both of these goals on a nationwide scale.

Cohen said the CAB had not decided whether the airlines should be given total freedom to raise or lower their fares or whether they should be allowed to do so within certain limits.

He also said no decision had been made as to whether the experiment should be conducted only with scheduled airlines or whether charter airlines also should be allowed to participate if they wish.

The CAB, in asking the airlines and public for comment on the proposal, said it did not know if such an experiment would produce any savings to consumers or whether it would result in less service or higher prices.

Tractor Thieves Apprehended

Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff reports the arrest of two adults and two juveniles who were caught stealing a garden tractor from Brown's Tractor and Implement Co. in Ashville 3 a.m. today.

Charges of breaking and entering and grand theft were filed against Dallas E. Bobst, 20 and Robert R. Bobst, 22, both of 4940 Lockbourne Road, and two 16-year-old youths from Shadeville and Grove City.

Due to the recent rash of vandalism and damagings in the village of Ashville Radcliff assigned Detective Don Thompson in cooperation with Deputy Marshall Bill Pontious to patrol the area on foot.

Thompson and Pontious were on the west side of Ashville near Jefferson Boulevard when they observed a U-haul trailer come into the village. Apparently seeing the foot-patrolmen, the occupants of the truck left the village.

Suspicious of the vehicle, Thompson and Pontious maintaining position near the railroad, observed the vehicle return to the village with its lights off. The truck then turned into the Brown Implement Co. lot.

One of the occupants got out of the vehicle and opened the doors enabling the truck to be pulled closer to a stack of garden tractors.

Three other subjects then proceeded to get out of the truck and began loading one of the tractors when Thompson and Pontious began to move in.

After the four subjects got back inside the vehicle, the foot deputies then ordered the four to stop.

The four were taken to the Pickaway County jail where charges were filed. Both Dallas and Robert Bobst were charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Radcliff stated "that he doesn't intend to tolerate any more acts of vandalism in the Ashville area and will assign more men to the area if it is necessary."

ROUNDTOWN

RAINFALL across Central Ohio during June ranged from 2.97 inches in Grove City to 6.26 inches on Morse Rd., just north of Gahanna.

Total rainfall at the Port Columbus reporting station was 3.53 inches, which is .60 of an inch below normal.

The average monthly temperature was 72.4 degrees, two degrees above normal. Circleville and Pickaway County received 52 per cent of the possible sunshine for the month of June.

Weather

Partly cloudy, warm and humid with a chance of thundershowers today, high, mid 80s. Chance of showers tonight becoming clear and cool, low around 60. Mostly sunny and cool Wednesday, high, mid 70s. Probability of precipitation, 30 per cent today and tonight and 10 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Monday were: high, 84; low, 66.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market gave ground again today in the midst of continuing expectations of an upward move in the bank prime lending rate.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 3.06 at 858.03, and losers held a lead of almost 2 to 1 over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow dropped about 6 points in the first hour on spreading talk in the financial community that the recent rise of open market money rates would prompt a general rise in the prime rate soon from 7 to 7 1/4 per cent. Prices recovered a bit later in the morning as short term rates steadied.

Polaroid jumped 2% to 39 1/4 in active trading.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index showed a .01 drop at 92.16.

Apco Oil, the volume leader on the Big Board, picked up 1/4 to 17 in trading marked by a 111,000-share block at 16 1/4.

The NYSE's composite index slipped .17 to 49.86.

Damson Oil, the Amex's most active issue, was off 3/4 at 4 1/4.

KSU Damage Suit Loses Defendant

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The number of defendants has shrunk to 42 in the damages trial stemming from the 1970 Kent State University shootings after a former Ohio National Guardsman testified there was no reason to fire at student demonstrators.

Claims against Richard B.J. Snyder, now a meatcutter from Smithville, were dismissed by the shooting victims and their families after Snyder told the jury he was not in danger on the campus hilltop where the firing broke out.

"At the time of the shooting, no, there was no need to fire," he said in answer to a question.

The panel of seven men and five women who will decide claims for $46 million in damages also heard a former guardsman say he was afraid demonstrators would take away his weapon and use it on him.

Another told the court he was surprised to see bullets ripping into the earth near the protestors, fearing that someone could get hurt.

Monday also was the occasion for a rare display of anger by U.S. District Court Judge Don Young, who warned attorneys for both sides not to attempt to introduce testimony given to a federal grand jury without consulting him first.

3 Ohioans Held In Drug Seizure

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A $3 million cocaine seizure has resulted in the arrests of three Ohioans, including the 23-year-old son of a former U. S. commissioner and a part-time ballerina.

The arrest of two Cincinnati residents in Miami, Fla., led to the apprehension of the third early Monday in a parking lot at Greater Cincinnati Airport.

Arrested in Cincinnati was John J. Barone, whose father of the same name spent 16 years as U.S. Commissioner of Northern Ohio at Cleveland.

The drug seizure began Sunday in Miami when Norman Depp and Roma Sly, both of Cincinnati were arrested after returning from a trip to Bogota, Colombia.

A spokesman for the U.S. Justice Department's Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) said 3.3 pounds of "high quality" cocaine was uncovered in a hair dryer.

Depp was accompanied back to Cincinnati by federal agents, who arrested Barone when the hair dryer containing an undisclosed amount of cocaine was turned over to him.

The trio has been charged with conspiracy to smuggle and import

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The chief and four other firemen were injured Monday fighting a fire that caused an estimated $500,000 to a paint products manufacturing firm.

It took 75 firemen about two hours to extinguish the two-alarm blaze at IVC Industrial Coatings Inc.

Chief Donald Lamb was cut on the mouth by flying glass as he helped battle the blaze. Two firemen were admitted to General Hospital and listed in satisfactory condition.

Seven employees escaped the burning building. Officials said the fire was believed to have started as a worker drew flammable liquid from a 500-gallon container into a five-gallon bucket.

Probation Rules Blocked By Court

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A woman convicted of forgery may not have to abide by terms of probation, including going to church and staying away from her ex-husband's family, the Indiana Civil Liberties Union says.

The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals issued a temporary injunction prohibiting Montgomery Circuit Court from enforcing certain conditions of probation set for Rosanna Drollinger, 19, Crawfordsville, the ICLU said Monday.

The union filed a suit in June on behalf of Mrs. Drollinger and her former father-in-law, Nathan Drollinger, challenging constitutionalality of six terms of probation.

The woman pleaded guilty in May to passing a forged check. Judge Thomas K. Milligan placed her on five years' probation.

Snyder became the second guardsman to have charges against him dropped after giving that testimony. The first was James W. Farris.

Thirty-eight present or former guardsmen remain as defendants. Claims also are outstanding against Gov. James A. Rhodes, and three former state officials.

Rhodes ordered the guard to Kent after two days of rioting sparked by the U.S. military incursion into Cambodia. The demonstrations included burning of the campus Reserve Officers Training Corps building 36 hours before the shootings.

"I was in fear of being overrun and my bayonet being used on me," James D. McGee said from the witness chair. The mustachioed carpenter from Ravenna testified he fired his M1 rifle three times, including once at a demonstrator who stepped from behind a tree about 60 feet away.

McGee said he thought he saw two men firing .45-caliber pistols during the clash May 4, 1970, but would not agree with a lawyer for the plaintiffs that one was 1st Sgt. Myron Pryor.

One of the two was a friend, Barry Morris, McGee said. The other he did not recognize and so believed him to be a member of a different unit, he said.

The plaintiffs have said they will try to show that Pryor fired his handgun that day despite his repeated denials.

cocaine, which carries a possible penalty of up to 15 years and a $25,000 fine.

Barone, who graduated from Miami (Ohio) University last December resides in nearby Riley, Ohio.

Depp told authorities he became acquainted with Barone at Miami University.

He said Barone approached him June 30 with $10,000 to purchase the cocaine.

Depp said he agreed and hired Miss Sly, a nightclub waitress and part-time ballerina, to accompany him to South America for the one-day trip.

Depp agreed to cooperate with drug enforcement officials after his arrest, according to the DEA spokesman.

Barone appeared before U.S. Magistrate Burton Perlman in Cincinnati Monday, and bond was set for him at $10,000. A hearing was scheduled for July 15.

Deaths

MR. CHARLES H. EITEL

The funeral service for Mr. Charles H. Eitel, 64, of 517 N. Pickaway St., who died Sunday will be held 2 p.m. Wednesday at Trinity Lutheran Church.

The family would appreciate donations to the Cancer Society or the building fund of Trinity Lutheran Church.

MR. EDWARD F. LUTZ

Mr. Edward F. Lutz, 53, Route 3, Amanda, died 7 a.m. Tuesday in Rochester, N.Y., of an apparent heart attack.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by Defenbaugh and Wise Funeral Home.

2 Lawnmowers Taken From Residence

John Alvin Cook, Route 2, told Deputy Gary Betts that thieves took a riding and push-mower from his backyard sometime between July 3 and 6.

The thieves allegedly used bolt cutters or lock and key to gain entry to the yard area.

The mowers were valued at $415. Lou McFarland of C. K. McFarland and Sons, Route 3, reported that vandals caused $375 worth of damage to a bulldozer sometime Sunday or Monday.

A wire, gas line, seat and arm rest were damaged by the vandals.

Deputy Billy Huffman investigated.

Protesters Hold Rally Against U.S.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — About 200 demonstrators carrying flags of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's Congress party cried "Shame on the CIA" as they staged a sit-down protest today in front of the U.S. Information Service building in downtown New Delhi.

The brief rally was the first anti-American outburst since Mrs. Gandhi imposed emergency rule on India on June 26. One emergency decree bars public slogan-shouting or gatherings of more than four people. But police made no attempt to interfere with the anti-American demonstration.

Leaders of the protest said they were from the Nehru Brigade, a youth group organized by Congress party leaders. The demonstration broke up after half an hour, and the leaders shook hands with the police.

Several leading supporters of Mrs. Gandhi, including the Congress party president and a former home minister, have said publicly they suspect that the Central Intelligence Agency is interested in undermining Mrs. Gandhi's government. The American agency has denied any connection with the campaign against Mrs. Gandhi that prompted her to declare a state of emergency.

Meanwhile, the police before dawn today raided several student dormitories at Jawaharlal Nehru University on the southern outskirts of the city. They roused the students and checked their identification papers.

Janitor Becomes Mayor

ROSLYN, Wash. (AP) — William Craven is this town's gravedigger and school janitor, and also apparently the first black mayor of a city in Washington state.

"As far as we can go — which is to say, all the way — there's just no evidence of there being one," said Tom Mayer, historical librarian for the Washington State Library.

"A black mayor? In this state? No!" was the response of Yolanda Williams, executive secretary of the Seattle Urban League, when asked if there had ever been another black as a Washington state mayor.

And Seattle City Councilman Sam Smith, a black, said, "I don't have any doubts he is probably the first black mayor in the state. I hope he handles his duties well."

Craven was unanimously appointed mayor by the City Council of this mountain town of 1,031 some 80 miles east of Seattle last June 10.

"Roslyn always comes first with me," says Craven, who was born in Roslyn — at one time a coal-mining boom city of 4,000.

The father of three children, Craven was 1 of 12 children of a coal miner who came "all the way from Texas to work in the coal mines."

Transit Plans Outlined

BOSTON (AP) — Transportation Secretary William T. Coleman Jr. said today that the Ford administration expects local governments to pay for inflationary cost increases in building mass transit systems.

In remarks prepared for the annual meeting of the U.S. Conference of Mayors, Coleman said federal aid simply can't cover the entire cost of transit projects and that he is most impressed by mayors who develop a local commitment to pick up a share of the bill.

The federal government will determine its share when a project is begun, he said. "If this sum is insufficient to complete the planned project for any reason, including inflationary cost increases, then the local authority and the state involved must be prepared to make up the difference."

"The era of open-ended federal giveaways is over," he added.

Two Bicycles Taken At Pool

Two bicycles were stolen Monday from the Ted Lewis Park Swimming Pool, Circleville Police said.

Luke McConnell, 108 Rosewood Ave., told officers that his bike was taken between 1 and 3 p.m.

The Huffy Hi-Rise three-speed bike, bright blue in color, is valued at $57.

Rick Baranick, 340 Lewis Rd., reported that his 26-inch Huffy 10-speed was taken. The bike is valued at $50.

Vandals poured sugar into the gasoline tank of a car owned by Sally Foll, 301 N. Scioto St.

Ms. Foll told Ptl. John Bost that she spotted occupants of another car tampering with her vehicle 12:20 a.m. Tuesday, while the car was parked in front of her house.

Thieves stole $80 worth of warning equipment from a job site at 214 Cedar Heights Rd., according to Kermit Lambert, and employee of the Circleville Water Department.

Items taken were two flasher barricades with metal legs and one flasher unit on each.

Car Overturns, Driver Injured

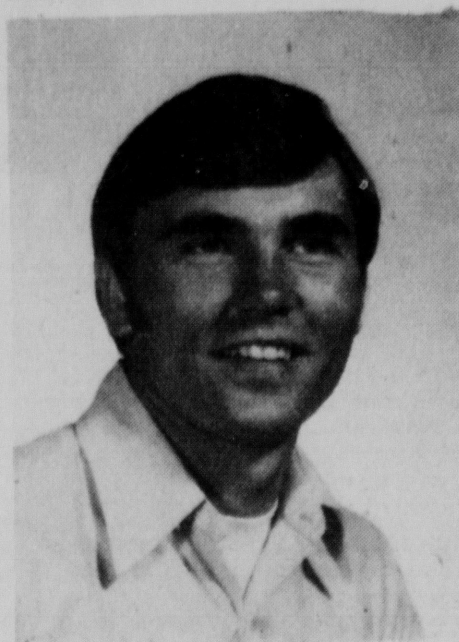

Thirty-four-year-old Sharon K. Welsh, Ashville, received injuries to the arm and hand, when she was involved in a single-car accident, 2:40 p.m. Monday.

According to the report taken by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Billy Huffman, Ms. Welsh was west-bound on the Harrisburg-Fairfield Road, passing papers when she lost control of her car on a curve.

The auto went off the left side of the road overturning on a steep embankment.

Treasurer Guilty

BALTIMORE (AP) — Former West Virginia Treasurer John H. Kelly pleaded guilty Monday to charges that he accepted bribes and expense paid vacations from state bankers in return for low-interest state deposits. It was the second time this year that a state official had, in effect, acknowledged that there were unlawful ties between portions of the state banking industry and the treasurer's office.

Main St. Huffman is a 1967 graduate of Logan Elm High School and a 1969 graduate of Andrew Columbus Barber College. He has been trained in men's hairstyling, hair straightening, hairpiece fitting and facials. He served two years in the United States Army. He and his wife, Deborah and son Timothy, reside at Route 4.

Civil Jury To Decide Settlement

A jury of eight was selected just before noon Monday to hear evidence in the civil suit of Sarah Tomlinson against the Deeds Brothers Dairy and Howard Edward Reed.

The jury will determine the amount of the settlement in the suit involving claims for injuries sustained by three Pennington children. The youths were injured in an accident which claimed the lives of three other members of their family. Settlement has already been made in the suit for the deaths of the other family members. The accident occurred Aug. 2, 1972.

Mrs. Tomlinson, acting as guardian of the boys, is seeking judgment in the amount of $275,000.

Representing the plaintiff in the case is Keith Dobbs, Columbus. Dobbs presented his case Monday afternoon and this morning and rested just prior to the morning recess.

Robert Huffer, local attorney, called Dr. Charles Hedges to the stand to testify in behalf of the defense.

Jurors seated to hear the case are Etha Mae Wolford, Arlena M. See, Mildred Skinner, Neal A. Corcoran, Mildred G. Fisher, Mary A. Ogg, and Juanita P. McFadden. Evelyn M. Allison was seated as an alternate juror.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA

Small businesses and the buying public will get one of their biggest breaks in the battle against inflation if Congress and the President are really serious about reducing the mountain of government paperwork.

Government regulations and forms, spawned by increasing numbers of inspections and controls, have mushroomed in the last few years — and with devastating consequences.

By President Ford's own count, 5,146 federal forms are sent out from Washington, resulting in what he aptly described recently as "an avalanche of paper" that buries some businesses.

The mounting cost to both the government and small businessmen spurred Congress into action last November, and it came forth with a bill, which was signed by the President, establishing a Commission on Federal Paperwork.

This short-term study group was formed to examine rules and regulations relating to the federal government's information-gathering activities and to make specific proposals for eliminating excessive and repetitive forms.

President Ford recently completed the Commission's membership with the appointment of eight people from both major parties, representing labor, small business, and federal, state and local government.

If a Commission on Federal Paperwork sounds frivolous, the problem it seeks to eliminate is anything but that. By one estimate, it costs government at all levels about $18 billion a year to print, shuffle and store all of this paperwork. The Federal Government alone spends $8 billion a year.

Even more significant, it costs small businessmen about $18 billion to fill out the different forms. These small businessmen — the backbone of our economy — are hit on a monthly or quarterly basis with a raft of forms covering internal revenue, unemployment, health, accident, social security and countless other matters.

A typical "Mom and Pop" store, with income of less than $30,000 before expenses, could be expected to file over 50 tax forms during the course of a year.

A firm employing not more than 50 people is required to fill out as many as 75 to 80 different types of forms during the year.

Because of this direct cost on business firms, many small businesses are being forced to either go out of business or merge into large corporations. The big firms are able to hire the necessary legal and accounting experts to deal with the government. They then pass the cost along to consumers.

One large corporation, with about 40,000 employees, reported that it had to use 125 file drawers of back-up material just to meet federal reporting requirements on personnel.

The needs of government are being given too much consideration at the expense of the needs of businessmen in this country.

The clutter of forms and regulations can hardly improve the efficiency of government and does, in fact, produce delays in necessary decision-making.

Our government cannot expect to receive and maintain the confidence and trust of its citizens if it erects a wall of red tape, built with tons of unnecessary paperwork.

The need is clear — the wall must come down!

$2 Bill On The Way?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department may reintroduce the two-dollar bill by the end of this year, according to Treasury Secretary William E. Simon.

In a letter to Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., dated June 21 and released today by Rosenthal, Simon said a decision has not yet been made, but indicated it would be soon.

He said the Bureau of Engraving and Printing already is preparing preliminary designs for a two-dollar bill using bicentennial themes.

"If the project fares well, with the concurrence of the Congress and other members of the administration, I would hope that we could agree to introduce the issue at the end of this year with a well-coordinated program to assure the circulation goals," Simon wrote.

Rosenthal is chairman of the House subcommittee on commerce, consumer and monetary affairs, which already is on record favoring the two-dollar bill.

A major reason for reintroducing the bill would be to save on printing costs, since fewer bills will be required if the two-dollar bill successfully replaces a portion of the one-dollar bills now in circulation.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Scene Needs Happy Ending

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I started a penpal relationship with a man in prison, and we exchanged pictures. He said he "Fell in love with my picture," but after we corresponded a while, he realized he really loved me. I fell in love with him too, crazy as it may seem.

Well, he was released four months ago, and we haven't seen each other yet because I have been putting it off. We live 1,600 miles apart and he offered to send me plane fare, but I've been making excuses such as "I've been sick."

The truth is that I've gained so much weight since that picture I sent him was taken, I am ashamed for him to see me.

He has a job now and said he would come to see me, but his parole officer says he has to wait a while. So, for now I am safe.

I am 23, and he is 26. I am afraid that if I put him off any longer, I will lose him. Can you help me?

FAT AND ASHAMED
DEAR ASHAMED: First, tell him the truth. (He may not mind.) Then, see a doctor and get on a diet you can live with. If there's an Overeaters Anonymous chapter in your area, join it. If Overeaters Anonymous can't help you, nobody can. Good luck and God bless.

DEAR ABBY: About that wife who complained because her husband showed her no affection after lovemaking: She remarked, "If a man would just take his lady love in his arms and hold her, and maybe give her a little kiss on the nose afterward, it would mean so much."

In response, you wrote that you wondered how many women suffered in silence from such a seemingly minor oversight.

My question: "Whose oversight is it?" If the lady wants a hug or a kiss on the nose, why can't she give HIM one in the hope that he'll respond in kind? Why assume that it's the man's responsibility to know what's going on in the woman's mind? By what mysterious talent are men supposed to know this?

If a woman is so stupid that she just suffers in silence, it's no wonder that she doesn't get the kind of attention she wants.

I would say, "Do unto others...."

A MAN
DEAR MAN: My reply was intended to tip off the man who rolls over and starts snoring three minutes after the big love scene. It's kind of hard to kiss a man on the nose when he turns his back on you.

DEAR ABBY: I appreciate your answer to the young lady who inferred that because her boyfriend did needlepoint, he was less of a man.

I've been doing needlepoint for a year, and I find it tremendous therapy for the nerves. (I do crewel and crochet, too.) I still have time to work 60 hours a week, play tennis, chess and backgammon. And in case you're wondering about my masculinity, my wife is expecting in December.

PETE IN SCHNECTADY

Deodorant Claims Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Does Dial anti-perspirant really do two things for friendship?

Are 5-Day Deodorant Pads really better than any of those sprays?

Does Right Guard have the best wetness fighter in any antiperspirant spray?

In response to questions from the Federal Trade Commission, deodorant manufacturers supplied their answers to those questions along with several others and also a lot of incidental information about human sweat.

The FTC today made public the information that was submitted as a result of orders directing the firms to prove their advertising claims.

Armour-Dial Inc. of Phoenix, Ariz., was asked about its advertisement that says:

"Dial Anti-Perspirant does two things for friendship. Stops perspiration odor. Controls perspiration wetness."

The company responded that "aluminum chlorhydrate, the active ingredient in Dial Anti-Perspirant, is a basic aluminum salt which has antibacterial properties, particularly for gram positive bacteria, and which has the capability of producing the astringent, or anhydrotic effect to reduce perspiration when applied to the skin. Because of these properties, aluminum chlorhydrate is an effective deodorant and antiperspirant."

Cattle Prices Level Off; May Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — An upward spiral in cattle prices appears to have leveled off and may be starting down because of a huge backlog of animals ready to come to market from grass pastures, according to Agriculture Department experts.

"This could be a critical week," George Hoffman, a livestock economist in the department's Economic Research Service, said Monday. "We may start to see slaughter numbers pick up now."

The Omaha market price for choice-grade steers averaged $53.98 per 100 pounds in the week ended June 28, down from $54.70 the week before. It was the first decline in the Omaha weekly average since early spring.

There was further decline last week, shortened by the holiday, and USDA officials said the Omaha market was dragging at its opening again Monday. Except for a few slight dips, prices of slaughter cattle have climbed steadily since early March when they hovered around $33 per 100 pounds.

By mid-June choice steer prices were the highest in almost two years, reflecting cutbacks in feedlot operations and a diversion of other cattle onto spring pastures. A year ago steer prices were climbing but still averaged only about $40 per 100 pounds at Omaha. They reached their 1974 peak in August at around $48.

Despite the recent downturn, prices of choice cattle — those which have been "finished" for slaughter on grain rations — have risen faster and have stayed high longer than USDA expected last winter when experts figured the market would peak in early June.

Well, he was released four months ago, and we haven't seen each other yet because I have been putting it off. We live 1,600 miles apart and he offered to send me plane fare, but I've been making excuses such as "I've been sick."

The truth is that I've gained so much weight since that picture I sent him was taken, I am ashamed for him to see me.

He has a job now and said he would come to see me, but his parole officer says he has to wait a while. So, for now I am safe.

I am 23, and he is 26. I am afraid that if I put him off any longer, I will lose him. Can you help me?

FAT AND ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: First, tell him the truth. (He may not mind.) Then, see a doctor and get on a diet you can live with. If there's an Overeaters Anonymous chapter in your area, join it. If Overeaters Anonymous can't help you, nobody can. Good luck and God bless.

DEAR ABBY: About that wife who complained because her husband showed her no affection after lovemaking: She remarked, "If a man would just take his lady love in his arms and hold her, and maybe give her a little kiss on the nose afterward, it would mean so much."

In response, you wrote that you wondered how many women suffered in silence from such a seemingly minor oversight.

My question: "Whose oversight is it?" If the lady wants a hug or a kiss on the nose, why can't she give HIM one in the hope that he'll respond in kind? Why assume that it's the man's responsibility to know what's going on in the woman's mind? By what mysterious talent are men supposed to know this?

If a woman is so stupid that she just suffers in silence, it's no wonder that she doesn't get the kind of attention she wants.

I would say, "Do unto others...."

A MAN

DEAR MAN: My reply was intended to tip off the man who rolls over and starts snoring three minutes after the big love scene. It's kind of hard to kiss a man on the nose when he turns his back on you.

DEAR ABBY: I appreciate your answer to the young lady who inferred that because her boyfriend did needlepoint, he was less of a man.

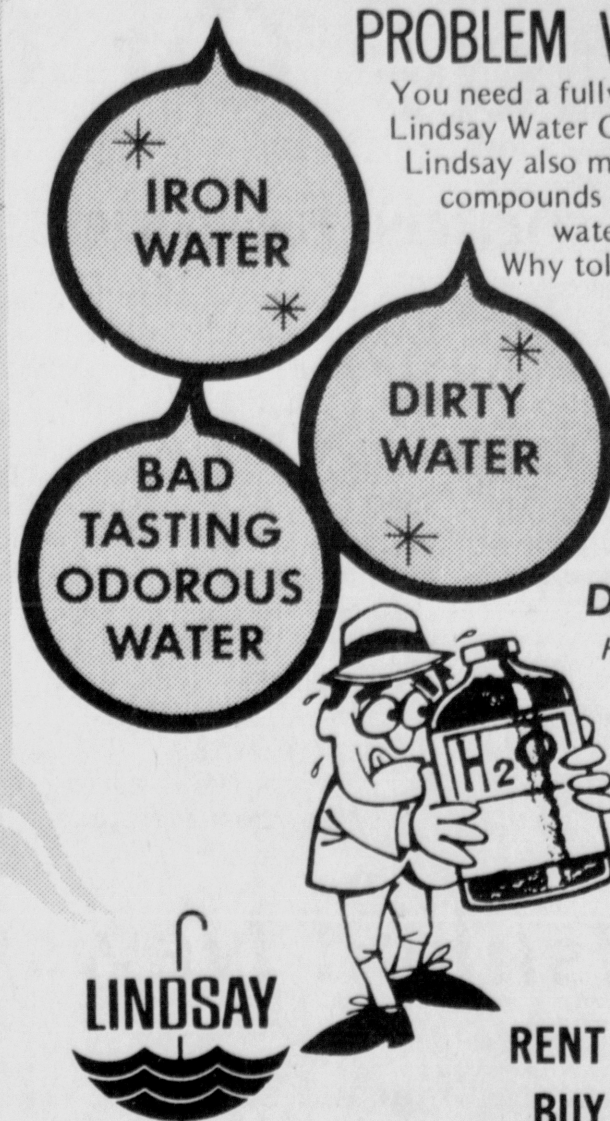

I've been doing needlepoint for a year, and I find it tremendous therapy for the nerves. (I do crewel and crochet, too.) I still have time to work 60 hours a week, play tennis, chess and backgammon. And in case you're wondering about my masculinity, my wife is expecting in December.

Deodorant Claims Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Does Dial anti-perspirant really do two things for friendship?

Are 5-Day Deodorant Pads really better than any of those sprays?

Does Right Guard have the best wetness fighter in any antiperspirant spray?

In response to questions from the Federal Trade Commission, deodorant manufacturers supplied their answers to those questions along with several others and also a lot of incidental information about human sweat.

The FTC today made public the information that was submitted as a result of orders directing the firms to prove their advertising claims.

Armour-Dial Inc. of Phoenix, Ariz., was asked about its advertisement that says:

"Dial Anti-Perspirant does two things for friendship. Stops perspiration odor. Controls perspiration wetness."

The company responded that "aluminum chlorhydroxide, the active ingredient in Dial Anti-Perspirant, is a basic aluminum salt which has antibacterial properties, particularly for gram positive bacteria, and which has the capability of producing the astringent, or anhydrotic effect to reduce perspiration when applied to the skin. Because of these properties, aluminum chlorhydroxide is an effective deodorant and antiperspirant."

Cattle Prices Level Off; May Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — An upward spiral in cattle prices appears to have leveled off and may be starting down because of a huge backlog of animals ready to come to market from grass pastures, according to Agriculture Department experts.

"This could be a critical week," George Hoffman, a livestock economist in the department's Economic Research Service, said Monday. "We may start to see slaughter numbers pick up now."

The Omaha market price for choice-grade steers averaged $53.98 per 100 pounds in the week ended June 28, down from $54.70 the week before. It was the first decline in the Omaha weekly average since early spring.

There was further decline last week, shortened by the holiday, and USDA officials said the Omaha market was dragging at its opening again Monday. Except for a few slight dips, prices of slaughter cattle have climbed steadily since early March when they hovered around $33 per 100 pounds.

By mid-June choice steer prices were the highest in almost two years, reflecting cutbacks in feedlot operations and a diversion of other cattle onto spring pastures. A year ago steer prices were climbing but still averaged only about $40 per 100 pounds at Omaha. They reached their 1974 peak in August at around $48.

Despite the recent downturn, prices of choice cattle — those which have been "finished" for slaughter on grain rations — have risen faster and have stayed high longer than USDA expected last winter when experts figured the market would peak in early June.

Weather Worries Space Scientists

"The thing we're sweating most is the weather," said Dr. Walter Kapryan, director of launch operations for the Kennedy Space Center, said Sunday. "As far as the crew, the launch team and the hardware are concerned, we're in real good shape."

Kapryan's main concern is the possibility of a large thunderstorm with lightning that could affect the July 15 Saturn rocket launch of the Apollo spacecraft.

Fuel Estimates Reduced

Energy independence, at least as far as oil and natural gas resources are concerned, has taken a new jolt with the release of the latest estimates of undiscovered reserves by the U.S. Geologic Survey. The latest survey shows a radical drop in reserve estimates over similar estimates made last year.

In estimating the quantity of undiscovered oil believed to lie under the Atlantic Outer Continental Shelf, the Geologic Survey now says that region may contain no more than two to four billion barrels of oil. Last year the Atlantic frontier was estimated to contain 10 to 20 billion barrels.

Other projections are similarly reduced. Nationally, the total of untapped offshore oil now is estimated to be between 10 and 49 billion barrels. One year ago it was given as 68 to 130 billion barrels.

Onshore, the Geologic Survey's current estimates are that reserves contain between 37 and 81 billion barrels. Last year the estimate was between 135 and 270 billion barrels. Estimates of undiscovered but recoverable natural gas also have been reduced by about two-thirds from the 1974 estimates.

The wide variation in estimates between the two years, but obviously estimating the volume of a resource which has not been discovered or tapped is an exercise with much room for error.

Disliked Newspapers

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Like unto many heads of state before him and since then, George III disliked newspapers. Particularly those published by what Vice President Spiro Agnew, the distinguished critic of the U.S. media, later called the egoistic elitists of the Eastern Establishment.

Just about this time, 200 years ago, Lt. Gen. Thomas Gage sent a force out from Boston to destroy the military stores the American rebels had assembled at Concord.

It was part of a new get tough policy that Gage and King George had discussed nine months earlier in London. His Majesty explained the strategy to Lord North, his chief adviser-pursekeeper in a letter which, with characteristic fastidiousness, he prefaced with "Queen's House, 46 min. past 6 p.m., February 4, 1774:

"I have seen Lieutenant-General Gage, who came to express his readiness, though so lately come from America, to return to a day's notice, if the conduct of the Colonies should induce . . . coercive measures. His language was very consonant to his character of an honest determined man. He says they will be lions, whilst we are lambs; but if we take the resolute part they will undoubtedly prove very meek.

"He thinks the four regiments intended to relieve as many regiments in America, if sent to Boston, are sufficient to prevent any disturbance. I wish you would see him, and hear his ideas as to the mode of compelling Boston to submit to whatever may be thought necessary; indeed all men now seem to feel that the fatal compliance in 1766 (Ed Note: repeal of the Stamp Act) has encouraged the Americans annually to increase their pretensions to that thorough independency which one (nation) has of another, but which is quite subversive of the obedience which a colony owes to its Mother-country."

So Gage, back in Houston in the spring of '75, sent off troops on what was so politely called a coercive mission. Ran into a little trouble in Lexington! Seems there had been a security leak. It had been picked up by a couple of fellows named William Dawes and Paul Revere, who blabbed it through the countryside. By the time the advanced platoon of Gage's men, commanded by Maj. John Pitcairn Concord, some 40 to 50 Minutemen were waiting for them muskets in hand.

"Lay down your arms, you damned rebels!" the British major shouted. He shouted it with so much authority that the Minutemen began to fall back. But then somebody pulled the trigger of his pistol. Nobody knows who fired "the shot heard round the world." (Ralph Waldo Emerson.) But it started the shooting war. Pitcairn's men mowed down 18 Minutemen, eight dead. The Minutemen stopped retreating and fired back. That may have been the moment one of your ancestors lost his British accent.

Before Gage's raiding party shot its way back to Boston the next day, after pushing through to Concord, it had lost 273 men — killed, wounded, and prisoners. The Americans lost, in those categories, a total of 90.

But hold! The news reached George III by fast packet on May 29, 1775, only one month and ten days later. It was presented to the King by Lord Dartmouth, Secretary of State for the Colonies. All his Lordship knew was what he read in the freshly delivered newspapers of Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

The King was no more amused by what he read than were, some years later, Presidents Washington, Lincoln, Johnson (Andrew and Lyndon), Wilson, FDR, Kennedy and Nixon. He regarded what he read as rubbish and said as much in a letter to Lord Dartmouth written at Kew, his place on the Thames, at precisely "40 min. past 4 p.m. that same day of May 29, 1775":

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The question that everyone on Wall Street seems to be seeking an answer to is: Will there be a strong summer rally?

Nobody has the answer, of course, and in fact nobody really can demonstrate that the question is a legitimate one. Evidence of the "traditional" summer rally is hard to uncover in a review of past market performance.

Nevertheless, expectations of a summer rally always develop about now. Wall Street lives in the future, and it is emotionally and often financially rewarding to kick up some excitement.

At the moment, however, the key barometer to the immediate stock market future is not the hopes of brokers but the height of interest rates. If rates continue upward there could be strong downward pressure on stock prices.

The reason for this is twofold. First, high rates drain money away from stocks. Investors instead put their funds into interest-bearing securities. Secondly, high interest rates cut into profits.

Offsetting to an unknown degree the interest rate factor is the proliferation of statistical evidence that the recession is near bottom and that a recovery is to follow.

Each day the news is filled with more evidence. Last week a government report showed that manufacturers actually were planning to rebuild inventories in anticipation of a recovery.

Still, you need not search very deeply to find serious doubts about the strength and timing of the recovery. A good many analysts feel we have become too optimistic.

More than one analyst, in fact, has suggested that what we interpret to be good news today would really be considered darkly negative in other times. We have had our fill of bad news, they say, so let us now look for the good.

Optimism in itself cannot push the economy out of a rut.

All these factors are now being assessed by investors who, in the final analysis, are the only ones who can produce that summer rally.

How they make that decision probably never will be known for certain, but we do know that some mysterious change of attitude does seem to occur at this very time of year.

Yes, a rally often does occur around the Fourth of July, but it is so short-lived that it can hardly be called a "traditional summer rally," which suggests something of longer duration.

Yale Hirsch, publisher of the Stock Trader's Almanac, notes:

"The last 20 years have seen a spectacular gain in the Standard & Poor's composite index, averaging 3 to 4 per cent each year between the tail-end of June . . . and the week after the Fourth.

"Translated into Dow Jones points, this means 30-38 points for the eight-nine trading days."

What all this adds up to is spurious. Activity does seem to be accelerated around this time of year, but it seems to last only as long as an aerial fireworks display.

For the longer term, watch those interest rates.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, July 8, the 189th day of 1975. There are 176 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1940, the government of Norway moved to London after 62 days of fierce fighting against Nazi invaders in World War II.

On this date: In 1663, King Charles II of England granted a charter to Rhode Island.

In 1822, the English poet, Percy Shelley, drowned when his boat capsized in the Italian Gulf of Spezzia.

In 1898, William Jennings Bryan pleaded for his silver money policy in his famous "Cross of Gold" speech in Chicago.

In 1919, President Woodrow Wilson received a tumultuous welcome in New York as he returned from the peace conference at Versailles.

In 1944, the World War II Battle of Saipan was won by American forces. In 1951, the city of Paris celebrated the 2,000th anniversary of its founding.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson nominated Henry Cabot Lodge to resume his post as the U.S. Ambassador to South Vietnam to replace retiring Maxwell Taylor.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon said he would ask Congress to empower American Indian groups to take over federally financed programs for their benefit.

One year ago: Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau and his Liberal Party were the winners in national elections in Canada.

Today's birthdays: Vice President Nelson Rockefeller is 67 years old. Singer Steve Lawrence is 40.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

As I grow older I find that my need for sleep diminishes. There once was a time when I needed 10 hours of sleep. Now, at 65, I seem to get along on five hours. Do doctors find that this commonly happens?

Mr. J. B., W. Va.

Dear Mr. B.:

Patterns of sleep do not fit into any general rule. These sleep patterns may vary with age, with freedom from emotional tensions and with the general state of good health.

It is well known that people can slowly retrain their sleep habits and reduce the need for many hours of sleep without endangering health.

Far too many people have a preconceived idea about how much sleep they need. They go into an emotional tailspin if they fail to have the exact number of hours they allocate for themselves.

The body is a remarkably wise machine and knows how to adjust sleep requirements. It should not be a source of concern to you that your need for sleep is different now than it formerly was. Your body exertions may be less and, consequently, the hours needed for sleep rejuvenation are reduced.

Can vibrating machines be used for reducing? I see them advertised and I'm tempted.

Mrs. F. A., R.I.

Dear Mrs. A.:

These machines have little or no value in losing weight. Beware of those who use these machines as another technique of exploiting the gullible public who are desperately seeking new methods of losing weight.

Vibrating machines are excellent for giving added tone and support to body muscles. They may firm these muscles and perhaps help take inches off the waist and hips.

They are not, however, a substitute for the simple rule of losing weight. That is, when you consume more calories in your food than your body expends in energy, a gain in weight is inevitable.

Conversely, if you consume fewer calories than your body expends in energy, you will lose weight, with or without vibrating machines.

Lightning struck the residence of James Wolford of Mud Road in Darbyville, tearing the telephone from the kitchen wall and throwing it into another room. Both Mrs. Wolford and her daughter received quite a shock. Russell Finley, a farm hand, had his head cut and very peculiar after effects from the electricity. His body would glow red and then change to a deadly white according to local reports. However, everyone who was connected with the lightning strike recovered.

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following excerpt is from a letter detailing a trip taken by local Girl Scouts June 8 through June 22 to the southern states.

Dear Editor:

I want to thank the following people for donations we needed for a couple of the girls to go: R.W. Ankrom Co., Mrs. Robert Brehmer Jr., Calvary Crusaders Sunday School Class, Mrs. Robert Goff, Circleville Junior Women's Club, Wagner's Walnut St. Greenhouse, Ward's Cardinal Market, Mrs. Marjorie Ward, Mrs. Ernest Weller, and three anonymous donors and family relatives of one girl.

A big, big thanks to John Robinson for all his help in rounding up breakfast items and driving the bus, which he donated free to us, and inquiring for places to eat and free attractions. I also want to thank him for the tribute he gave me in a Letter to the Editor.

I had a lot of behind-the-scenes help from Bob and Gloria Van Gundy and the parents, who generously gave time for our many fund-raising projects and the help in the booths at the county fair.

Also to the great help from all the lady chaperones and the men behind the women (this time), my husband, Willis.

Thanks to all. For a trip like this could not have been taken without a lot of help and cooperation.

Girls going were from three troops — Senior Troop 425, Cadette Troop 1176, and cadettes from Cadette Troop 222.

The girls were Cathy Armstrong, Robin Brown, Pam Dinter, Tracy Dietrich, Evelyn Dontan, Kelly England, Cathy Gerlach, Toni Hill, Tami Jacobs, Karen Jones, Sheryl Lawson, Connie McCain, Sheryl Shasteen, Buffy Smith, Cheryl Smith, Joy Van Gundy, Kathy Van Gundy, Karen Walker, Traci Ward, Cathy Wilkerson, and Tina Woods.

Adults were Mrs. Nevada Bond, Mrs. Phyllis England, Pamela Gerbeth, Mrs. Lucinda Kirk, Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Van Gundy, and Mrs. Rosemary Flowers.

Children Die In Hot Auto

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A young mother who left three children in a closed car in which the heat reached 140 degrees is in custody "pending the filing of charges" after two of the youngsters died, a sheriff's spokesman said.

Authorities were summoned to a sedan parked outside the Sedgwick County Courthouse on Sunday afternoon when one of three children inside the locked auto was seen convulsing. Victoria Crockett, 5, and Melvin Crockett, 22 months, were unconscious in the back seat and later pronounced dead at a hospital.

Their sister, Stephanie Crockett, 3, responded to treatment at the hospital and was released.

Capt. Jim Carter of the sheriff's department said tests showed the inside of the car to be as hot as 140 degrees when the situation was discovered about 3:15 p.m.

Gasoline Probe Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Recent increases in gasoline prices have become the target of a special Senate investigation.

Sens. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., announced the investigation Sunday and said it will try to determine if oil companies purposely cut refinery production in order to raise gasoline prices.

They said the first round of hearings will begin within two weeks by the permanent subcommittee on investigations, headed by Jackson, and the Commerce subcommittee on oil and gas production and distribution, headed by Stevenson.

Federal energy officials said last week they expect gasoline prices to increase by three to five cents per gallon this summer, and several major oil firms announced price hikes during the week.

The first postage stamp was issued in England May 6, 1840.

Engineering, Surveying Firm Opens Office Here

Henry L. Kunze and Charles J. Destefani, of Kunze and Associates, Inc., a civil engineering and land surveying firm, have opened an office at 138½ W. Main St.

The firm is a professional corporation with an office presently located in Westerville.

The area of practice includes land planning, subdivision development plans, sewerage and water line design, road and street design, farm surveys, lot surveys, mortgage loan inspections, and topographical surveys.

These services will be available to the Circleville and Pickaway County area from the local office.

Kunze, a registered professional engineer and registered land surveyor in the State of Ohio, received a Bachelor of Civil Engineering Degree from the Ohio State University in June, 1957.

From graduation to 1967, Kunze worked for Alden E. Stilson and Associates, Photronix, Inc., Rackoff Associates, and Franklin Engineering Limited on water line and sewer line projects, and also on the Interstate 70 and Interstate 270 highway projects.

Since April, 1967, Kunze has been a principle of Civil Engineering Associates, Limited, Kunze, Games, and Street, Inc., and Junze and Associates, Inc. These firms have been engaged in the practice of designing highway projects, designing subdivisions and apartment development, and land surveys.

Destefani is a registered surveyor in Ohio and serves as secretary-treasurer of Kunze and Associates, Inc. He has had 15 years of experience as a designer and surveyor.

Both men are members of the Professional Land Surveyors of Ohio.

Kunze served as president of the Central Ohio Chapter from March, 1974, to 1975, and is presently on a committee to write standards for land surveyors for the state.

Destefani is treasurer of the Central Ohio Chapter of the Professional Land Surveyors of Ohio.

Prof Works On Engine At Ohio U

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — An engine that can run on almost any fuel source is being developed by an Ohio University professor.

William T. Beale, an associate professor of mechanical engineering, said the engine would be useful in underdeveloped nations.

He said it could run on such things as manure, wheat chaff or rice hulls.

He said it is possible a farmer could use it to run a tractor burning organic field waste.

The engine is similar to an engine used in the last century to pump water from Scottish coal mines, he said. He said it was low in pollution and requires no lubrication.

Virtual absence of friction and wear as well as few moving parts, gives the engine a long maintenance-free life, he said. It differs from the older engine by its lack of connecting rods, bearings and gears.

A piston is fired by heat applied to a cylinder containing compressed hydrogen or helium.

Contracts with commercial firms have enabled him to explore potential uses of the engine, Beale said.

The engine could be used to power television sets in remote villages without electric power, he said. American homeowners might find it useful as an auxiliary power source, he added.

Pell Speaks On Policies

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., told an Ohio University audience Monday night this country should base its foreign policy on national interests of the future rather than conditions of 20 or 30 years ago.

"We must recognize the reality of change, review our existing treaties and if they are not in our current interests and those of the foreseeable future, exercise our right of withdrawal," Pell said.

Pell, speaking at the university's annual Humanities Conference, said he favored a reduction of America's military presence in foreign countries and cutting the sale of armaments, despite the economic impact it would have.

Pell said he believes the United States would be justified in aiding South Korea in the event of an invasion from the north because South Korea has United Nations backing and an established demarcation line.

In politics, Pell said he believes Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., would respond favorably if drafted as the Democratic presidential nominee during the party's national convention.

Newsmen Get Gentle Warning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson has issued a gentle reminder to those inspecting his records, mostly newsmen, that things are not always what they seem.

The reminder comes in a memorandum attached to every audit of a governmental unit.

It is tactfully addressed, "To Whom It May Concern," and signed, "Respectfully submitted, Thomas E. Ferguson."

Between those two phrases, Ferguson admonishes readers to "always remember that it takes years for a man to build a reputation."

"Always remember that one of the purposes of these examinations is to safeguard the honest, well-meaning official, who might make a mistake,

even as you and I," the memorandum continues.

"Always remember that if this course is followed, the general public, which is served by the official, will receive an unprejudiced, unbiased report."

Fred Knippenburg, the auditor's public information officer, said the memorandum is a revival of an old practice.

"It was dropped in the last 10 years or so," Knippenburg said. "We just reinstated it."

Workers in Ferguson's office said the memorandum is aimed at persons who might confuse mistakes with embezzlement.

Audits, particularly those most likely to attract attention, contain what are called "findings for recovery," in which public officials are ordered to repay public money which is either unaccounted for or illegally spent.

Because of complex state laws covering what are and are not proper uses for public funds, officials often are told their expenses are illegal, even if there is no criminal intent.

High schools, for instance, often pay membership fees for their coaches in athletic associations. The auditor normally orders the coach to repay the school.

One high school principal was ordered to reimburse his school for the cost of a book on legal guidelines in expulsions and suspensions. The auditor ruled the expenditure was not authorized by law.

Court Files 52 Cases, Finishes 69

A monthly report issued today by Judge William Ammer of the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court showed 52 cases were filed during the month of June. During the same period, the court terminated 69 cases from its docket leaving a total of 224 cases pending on the last day of the month.

Of the new cases filed, one was a personal injury, 11 were criminal, 30 were domestic relations and ten fell into the "others" category.

Cases terminated were five personal injury, one workman's compensation, 26 criminal, 28 domestic relations and nine others.

The court held one jury trial during the month, seven court trials, four pre-trials, and terminated 11 cases by dismissal, 44 by default and one by transfer to another court or judge. One case was terminated due to the unavailability of the accused.

The majority of cases left pending on the court's docket fall into the domestic relations category. There are 43 criminal cases and 32 personal injury suits left pending.

Engineering, Surveying Firm Opens Office Here

Henry L. Kunze and Charles J. Destefani, of Kunze and Associates, Inc., a civil engineering and land surveying firm, have opened an office at 138½ W. Main St.

The firm is a professional corporation with an office presently located in Westerville.

The area of practice includes land planning, subdivision development plans, sewerage and water line design, road and street design, farm surveys, lot surveys, mortgage loan inspections, and topographical surveys.

These services will be available to the Circleville and Pickaway County area from the local office.

Kunze, a registered professional engineer and registered land surveyor in the State of Ohio, received a Bachelor of Civil Engineering Degree from the Ohio State University in June, 1957.

From graduation to 1967, Kunze worked for Alden E. Stilson and Associates, Photronix, Inc., Rackoff Associates, and Franklin Engineering Limited on water line and sewer line projects, and also on the Interstate 70 and Interstate 270 highway projects.

Since April, 1967, Kunze has been a principle of Civil Engineering Associates, Limited, Kunze, Games, and Street, Inc., and Junze and Associates, Inc. These firms have been engaged in the practice of designing highway projects, designing subdivisions and apartment development, and land surveys.

Destefani is a registered surveyor in Ohio and serves as secretary-treasurer of Kunze and Associates, Inc. He has had 15 years of experience as a designer and surveyor.

Both men are members of the Professional Land Surveyors of Ohio.

Kunze served as president of the Central Ohio Chapter from March, 1974, to 1975, and is presently on a committee to write standards for land surveyors for the state.

Destefani is treasurer of the Central Ohio Chapter of the Professional Land Surveyors of Ohio.

Prof Works On Engine At Ohio U

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — An engine that can run on almost any fuel source is being developed by an Ohio University professor.

William T. Beale, an associate professor of mechanical engineering, said the engine would be useful in underdeveloped nations.

He said it could run on such things as manure, wheat chaff or rice hulls.

He said it is possible a farmer could use it to run a tractor burning organic field waste.

The engine is similar to an engine used in the last century to pump water from Scottish coal mines, he said. He said it was low in pollution and requires no lubrication.

Virtual absence of friction and wear as well as few moving parts, gives the engine a long maintenance-free life, he said. It differs from the older engine by its lack of connecting rods, bearings and gears.

A piston is fired by heat applied to a cylinder containing compressed hydrogen or helium.

Contracts with commercial firms have enabled him to explore potential uses of the engine, Beale said.

The engine could be used to power television sets in remote villages without electric power, he said. American homeowners might find it useful as an auxiliary power source, he added.

Pell Speaks On Policies

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., told an Ohio University audience Monday night this country should base its foreign policy on national interests of the future rather than conditions of 20 or 30 years ago.

"We must recognize the reality of change, review our existing treaties and if they are not in our current interests and those of the foreseeable future, exercise our right of withdrawal," Pell said.

Pell, speaking at the university's annual Humanities Conference, said he favored a reduction of America's military presence in foreign countries and cutting the sale of armaments, despite the economic impact it would have.

Pell said he believes the United States would be justified in aiding South Korea in the event of an invasion from the north because South Korea has United Nations backing and an established demarcation line.

In politics, Pell said he believes Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., would respond favorably if drafted as the Democratic presidential nominee during the party's national convention.

Newsman Get Gentle Warning

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson has issued a gentle reminder to those inspecting his records, mostly newsmen, that things are not always what they seem.

The reminder comes in a memorandum attached to every audit of a governmental unit.

It is tactfully addressed, "To Whom It May Concern," and signed, "Respectfully submitted, Thomas E. Ferguson."

Between those two phrases, Ferguson admonishes readers to "always remember that it takes years for a man to build a reputation."

"Always remember that one of the purposes of these examinations is to safeguard the honest, well-meaning official, who might make a mistake,

even as you and I," the memorandum continues.

"Always remember that if this course is followed, the general public, which is served by the official, will receive an unprejudiced, unbiased report."

Fred Knippenburg, the auditor's public information officer, said the memorandum is a revival of an old practice.

"It was dropped in the last 10 years or so," Knippenburg said. "We just reinstated it."

Workers in Ferguson's office said the memorandum is aimed at persons who might confuse mistakes with embezzlement.

Audits, particularly those most likely to attract attention, contain what are called "findings for recovery," in which public officials are ordered to repay public money which is either unaccounted for or illegally spent.

Because of complex state laws covering what are and are not proper uses for public funds, officials often are told their expenses are illegal, even if there is no criminal intent.

High schools, for instance, often pay membership fees for their coaches in athletic associations. The auditor normally orders the coach to repay the school.

One high school principal was ordered to reimburse his school for the cost of a book on legal guidelines in expulsions and suspensions. The auditor ruled the expenditure was not authorized by law.

Henderson-Holloway Wedding Officiated By Rev. Fr. Petre

MRS. MICHAEL HOLLOWAY

Miss Elizabeth Anne Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Henderson, 209 N. Scioto St., was wed to Mr. James Michael Holloway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Holloway, 3316 Sun Haven Oval, Cleveland, in a 2 p.m. Mass, June 8th, in St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Circleville with the Rev. Father Petre officiating the double ring ceremony.

Baskets containing pastel colored gladioli and mums with huckleberry foliage adorned the front altar with similar arrangements at the back altar. White ribbons and huckleberry marked the pews.

Organist, Mr. Tom Sullivan, presented a half-hour program preceding the ceremony. Vocalist, Miss Mary Radaszewski and two guitar players assisted Father Petre in singing the Mass.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. For her wedding she selected a gown of white organza and Venice lace. The fitted bodice featured an empire waistline and bishop sleeves of lace. The chapel length train, edged in lace, was attached to the back of the floor length A-line skirt. The bride's headpiece was a halo of white daisies and roses with baby's breath, and shattered carnations. She carried a bouquet of flowers matching her headpiece, tied with white ribbon forming streamers.

The bride placed a corsage of white roses at the Blessed Virgin's altar, as did her mother at her wedding. Matron of honor, Mrs. Kenneth (Tami) Blissenbach, served her sister as honor attendant.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jerry L. Henderson, sister-in-law of the bride; Miss Susan Holloway and Miss Carol Holloway, sisters of the bridegroom. The attendants all wore floor length gowns in pastel colors of blue and peach. They carried bouquets of pink and white daisies, baby's breath and red roses.

Flower girl, Miss Krista Blissenbach, niece of the bride, wore a floor length gown of pale yellow under white lace with a matching hat. She carried a white lace basket filled with white flower petals.

Mr. Tom Holloway, brother of the bridegroom, performed the duties of best man. Mr. Jerry L. Henderson, and Mrs. Michael Henderson, brothers of the bride, and Dr. Kenneth W.

Blissenbach, brother-in-law of the bride, were ushers.

Mrs. Henderson wore a floor length gown of apricot silk and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Holloway chose a floor length gown of yellow silk and a corsage matching that of Mrs. Henderson.

A reception in the church hall immediately followed the ceremony. The wedding cake, topped with white doves, was flanked with candelabra encircled with white Fuji and snowdrift mums and huckleberry foliage. Pink and white daisies surrounded the punch bowl.

Hostesses were Miss Teresa Troutman and Miss Debbie Goodman of Circleville; Miss Lisa Williams and Mrs. Don (Teresa) Filipiki of Columbus, and Miss Susan Reichelderfer of Kingston.

For a wedding trip to Toronto, Canada, the bride wore a yellow pant suit with white accessories. The couple now resides at 192 F. E. Norwich, Columbus.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Circleville High School and attended Ohio University in Athens for three years. She is currently majoring in speech and hearing at the Ohio State University in Columbus and is working at Nationwide Insurance Co. for the summer.

The bridegroom graduated from Normandy High School in Cleveland and graduated in pre-dentistry at Ohio University and will continue his dentistry studies in July at the Ohio State University in Columbus.

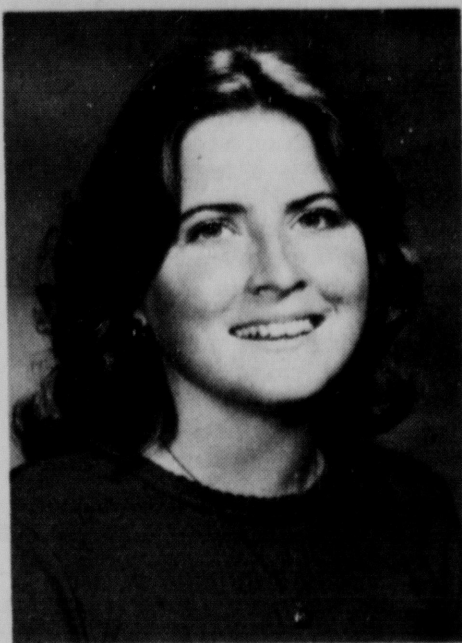

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Columbus, Lancaster, Newark, Kingston, Dayton, Athens, Defiance and Pickerington, and Cleveland, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Honored guest was Mrs. Elias Hosseta, of Cleveland, grandmother of the bridegroom.

The rehearsal dinner held at Wardell's Party Home the night preceding the wedding, was hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

Complimenting the bride before the marriage was a luncheon given by the bride's aunt, Mrs. David Myers of Celina; at Scioto Country Club in Columbus; showers were hosted by Mrs. Dan Filipski and Miss Lisa Williams in Columbus; Mrs. Tami Blissenbach and Miss Lisa Williams of Columbus; Mrs. Tami Blissenbach

RHUBARB AND PINEAPPLE JAM

Delicious way to use late-growing rhubarb.

4 cups sliced (1-inch pieces) rhubarb
1 1/2 cups diced (1/2-inch) fresh pineapple

2 cups sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange juice
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

In a large saucepot over low heat stir together all the ingredients except the walnuts until sugar dissolves. Boil, stirring often, until thick — about 45 minutes. Stir in nuts. Ladle into hot jars and seal. Makes four 1/2 pints.

Correction

The name of James Brown, an usher at the wedding of Miss Candy C. Ream and Charles L. Karr, was inadvertently omitted from the report of the ceremony in The Herald.

White House Conference Attended In Cincinnati By Mrs. Sterling Poling

Those who participated in the White House Conference, held in Cincinnati on Thursday, were very much impressed with the candor with which the White House officials answered questions and the sincerity with which they sought the opinions of the participants, according to Mrs. Sterling Poling, one of the participants. The Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Poling is the secretary, was one of the sponsoring organizations for the conference.

Frank G. Zarb, administrator for the Federal Energy Administration, was asked if gasoline will be rationed and he replied, according to Mrs. Poling, that it is unlikely in the near future and if ever it is rationed it will be as a result of an extreme emergency and then for only a brief period of time. Mr. Zarb feels that American ingenuity will ultimately come up with satisfactory substitutes for the oil now being imported.

Mrs. Virginia Knauer, special assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, was asked if it is legal to present facsimile coupons for advertised items at the grocery. Mrs. Knauer was unable to answer this provocative question, but the answer is to be included in the complete transcript of the proceedings which will be mailed to each participant.

James T. Lynn, director of the Office of Management and Budget said that, in 20 years, the portion of the budget used for defense has gone from 56 per cent to 27 per cent and that welfare and related social services in the same time period have gone from 22 per cent to 51 per cent. He further reported that Human Resources programs have increased 135 per cent in real dollars. Mr. Lynn said that one third of the money spent in the United States is government money collected by taxing the American people.

President Gerald R. Ford who spoke to the conference, reiterated the theme that there should be less government control and less deficit spending by the government for the good of the country. Other speakers appearing at the conference were HEW Secretary, Casper W. Weinberger; Secretary of Labor, John T. Dunlop; Assistant to the President for Economic Affairs, L. William Seidman; Administrator, EPA, Russell E. Train; Stanley S. Scott, Special Assistant to the President for Minority Affairs; and William Morrill, Assistant Secretary of HEW.

GOOD BREAKFAST

Orange juice, eggs and bacon, hot biscuits with rhubarb pineapple jam
RHUBARB AND PINEAPPLE JAM

Delicious way to use late-growing rhubarb.

4 cups sliced (1-inch pieces) rhubarb
1 1/2 cups diced (1/2-inch) fresh pineapple

2 cups sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange juice
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

In a large saucepot over low heat stir together all the ingredients except the walnuts until sugar dissolves. Boil, stirring often, until thick — about 45 minutes. Stir in nuts. Ladle into hot jars and seal. Makes four 1/2 pints.

White House Conference Attended In Cincinnati By Mrs. Sterling Poling

Those who participated in the White House Conference, held in Cincinnati on Thursday, were very much impressed with the candor with which the White House officials answered questions and the sincerity with which they sought the opinions of the participants, according to Mrs. Sterling Poling, one of the participants. The Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, of which Mrs. Poling is the secretary, was one of the sponsoring organizations for the conference.

Frank G. Zarb, administrator for the Federal Energy Administration, was asked if gasoline will be rationed and he replied, according to Mrs. Poling, that it is unlikely in the near future and if ever it is rationed it will be as a result of an extreme emergency and then for only a brief period of time. Mr. Zarb feels that American ingenuity will ultimately come up with satisfactory substitutes for the oil now being imported.

Mrs. Virginia Knauer, special assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, was asked if it is legal to present facsimile coupons for advertised items at the grocery. Mrs. Knauer was unable to answer this provocative question, but the answer is to be included in the complete transcript of the proceedings which will be mailed to each participant.

James T. Lynn, director of the Office of Management and Budget said that, in 20 years, the portion of the budget used for defense has gone from 56 per cent to 27 per cent and that welfare and related social services in the same time period have gone from 22 per cent to 51 per cent. He further reported that Human Resources programs have increased 135 per cent in real dollars. Mr. Lynn said that one third of the money spent in the United States is government money collected by taxing the American people.

President Gerald R. Ford who spoke to the conference, reiterated the theme that there should be less government control and less deficit spending by the government for the good of the country. Other speakers appearing at the conference were HEW Secretary, Casper W. Weinberger; Secretary of Labor, John T. Dunlop; Assistant to the President for Economic Affairs, L. William Seidman; Administrator, EPA, Russell E. Train; Stanley S. Scott, Special Assistant to the President for Minority Affairs; and William Morrill, Assistant Secretary of HEW.

Wallace Expects Media Scrutiny

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace expects to face more intense media scrutiny in his 1976 presidential campaign than he did in two previous bids, a campaign aide says.

"One of the things that will be different from 1972 and 1968 is that if the governor is a candidate, he'll propose solutions," said C. Robert Gambacurta, Wallace's media coordinator.

Gambacurta said Wallace's candidacy in 1976 is being taken more seriously than it was previously. "He never had to talk about solutions in the past but he'll have to now," he said.

Wallace is not expected to visit Ohio in his presidential campaign bid until late this year or early next, Gambacurta said. When he does arrive in Ohio, he will avoid vigorous campaigning and may limit himself to one appearance a day, he added.

Wallace has been paralyzed from the waist down since an assassination attempt in May 1972.

"He feels his name is well enough known he will not have to do hand-shaking with the public to get identification," Gambacurta said. "We feel we have already got that."

Wallace will not visit Ohio and most other states, Gambacurta said, until the Alabama legislature adjourns and the governor officially announces his candidacy. He said it may be October.

Gambacurta and four other Wallace aides were in the area meeting with potential Wallace backers and discussing plans for an Ohio organization. Sid Chambliss, a Montgomery, Ala., businessman, will head the Ohio campaign.

As the American Independent Party candidate for president in 1968, Wallace received 13 per cent of the Ohio vote. He did not enter the 1972 Ohio presidential primary.

One Adult, Four Youths Sentenced By Judge Cline

One adult and four youths appeared last week in Pickaway County Juvenile Court. Three of the youngsters received suspended sentences to the Ohio Youth Commission and the fourth was placed there permanently.

William Morgan, appeared on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was charged with furnishing marijuana to a 17-year-old youth.

Morgan was sentenced by Judge Guy G. Cline to a term of six months in the Pickaway County Jail. The judge gave the man credit for time already spent in the jail and suspended the remainder of the sentence. Morgan was also placed on probation for two years.

Speech, Hearing Center Hosts Home Workshop

The South Central Ohio Speech and Hearing Center will host a workshop concentrated on the training of nursing staff of the Ohio Department of Health's Home Health Program.

The workshop will be held on July 9, at the Carver Community Center in Chillicothe.

Home Health nurses have been invited from 18 counties in south central Ohio. The workshop will center on special problems of the aphasic patient.

Aphasia is the speech and or language deficit that results from a stroke.

Richard Ries, executive director of the Speech and Hearing Center, said that this is one of many programs that the Speech and Hearing Center is participating in for the effective coordination of rehabilitation services for south central Ohio.

Susan Ford Gets Newspaper Job

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Susan Ford has arrived here for her six-week job as a newspaper photographer.

The President's 18-year-old daughter was greeted Monday as she landed by 91-degree temperatures, bright sunshine and Richard Clarkson, photo chief of the Topeka Capital-Journal, who will be her boss in a $115-a-week photography internship at the paper.

Miss Ford will end her internship in mid-August, then take a vacation with her family in Vail, Colo. She is scheduled to begin her freshman year at Mt. Vernon College in Washington this fall.

Plea Entered In Fraud Case

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An Ohio woman pleaded innocent Monday in U.S. District Court to 12 charges of mail fraud in a health and accident insurance swindle.

Rosie Lee Vinson, 26, of Mansfield, Ohio, and formerly of St. Louis, is accused of bilking insurance companies by taking out numerous health and accident policies, then causing herself to be hospitalized to collect.

PICCA NOTES

The Outreach Department held a meeting with Harold Hewitt regarding YMCA activities. The Department has 25 single and 15 family memberships to be distributed to the needy persons within the county. Nine youths took advantage of the nine openings for Camp Willson which began July 6.

A brochure was made to distribute throughout the county and also a badge for the volunteers to wear for recognition purposes.

Outreach is presently taking a county-wide survey, with results showing a definite need for a Rural Transportation program to be in effect July 14. Other information from the survey has shown needs in other areas. Persons needing these services are to watch for the notice to appear soon in The Herald.

Although quite a lot of food items have been donated to the organization from the various civic groups and church, there is still a need. Anyone wishing to assist Outreach in the drive, please contact Melody Wilson, Outreach Director, 474-7452.

The GED class in Ashville has 26 students enrolled while the Circleville class has 20 students enrolled. The classes are going great.

Books have been donated by the schools which will be used to supplement the textbooks already being used. Investigation is underway to acquaint the people of the programs available to them in technical schools.

Blame Gases For Deaths

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Franklin County Coroner William Adrien said Monday the deaths of six men last week at the Inland Products Co. plant here were caused by a combination of gases that accumulated because of a clogged drain.

Adrien said the drain led to the pit in which the victims were overcome. When the clog was discovered, he said, noxious gases generated by bacteria forming in the decaying material were released into the pit.

The coroner said it was believed that hydrogen sulfide combined with other gases, possibly methane and carbon dioxide, to cause the deaths.

Four plant workers were killed June 30 when one of them was felled while checking a sump pump and the others went to his aid. Two Franklin Township firemen, thinking the men had been electrocuted and not suspecting gas, entered the pit and also were overcome.

Students Attend Workshop

Three students from Circleville High School attended the 19th Annual Leadership Training Workshop at Ohio Northern University, June 28-July 3. Representing the CHS student council were Jeff Lackey, president; Donna Wickline, vice-president; and Sam Webb, treasurer.

Lackey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Lackey; Miss Wickline, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wickline and Webb, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Webb.

The workshop program is sponsored by the Ohio Association of Secondary School Principals. It brought together student council representatives from throughout Ohio.

During five days on the ON campus, the students discussed problems common to their schools and developed solutions using improved leadership and group process techniques.

Through association with other students, mock council meetings, lectures, laboratory sessions and informal discussion, the delegates explored the application of Democratic principals at the high school level.

Big Future For Jetfoil Boats

HONOLULU (AP) — When it's sitting at the dock, the 90-foot 112-ton vessel looks like just another ungainly double-deck harbor cruise boat.

But when its twin gas turbine waterjet engines begin sucking up and expelling 220 tons of seawater per minute, the hull rises smoothly and the craft quickly accelerates to nearly 50 miles an hour, only knife-like steelstruts slicing the water.

This is the Seafite Jetfoil, billed as the nation's first commercial hydrofoil and an eventual answer to commuters' dreams in many cities.

The first of three Jetfoils built by the Boeing Aerospace Co. for Seafite was tested here for several weeks and began passenger service in mid-June with less than capacity crowds aboard.

The craft makes daily runs to neighboring islands, competing with established airline service. But the Jetfoil is being watched closely for its potential on shorter commuter runs.

Its designers talk of pleasant, smooth commuter service from Great Neck to Manhattan in 18 minutes, San Francisco to the San Francisco Airport in 38 minutes and Bremerton to Seattle in 21 minutes.

Hawaii officials including the governor have ridden the Jetfoil and are looking at the possibility of buying and subsidizing the 250-passenger craft to cut the traffic jams between Honolulu and its seaside suburbs.

"It does have a jiggle, joggle," says a Seafite technical adviser, Justus Muller. "It's like a ride on a train back in the days when there was such a thing as a good train ride."

Mrs. Peron Yields To Worker Demand

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) — President Isabel Peron has agreed to scrap her 50 per cent ceiling on wage increases to appease the striking labor wing of the Peronist movement. But she continues to reject the union leaders' demand for the ouster of her closest adviser, Jose Lopez Rega, informed sources reported today.

The sources said Mrs. Peron offered to replace some of her eight cabinet ministers. It was believed that she and Lopez Rega were prepared to sacrifice Economy Minister Celestino Rodrigo. He is the administrator of the government austerity plan which has resulted in a month of strikes, other protests and intensified political pressure on the president to get rid of Lopez Rega.

Leaders of the General Labor Confederation (CGT) who paralyzed Argentina Monday with a two-day general strike scheduled a meeting today to consider Mrs. Peron's offer. A communiqué indicated they would accept it.

This would paper over the split between Juan D. Peron's widow and the labor federation that is the traditional backbone of the Peronist movement. But as long as the conservative Lopez Rega continues to be Mrs. Peron's closest adviser and the virtual prime minister of her regime, a permanent reconciliation is not likely.

The simmering crisis between the CGT and Mrs. Peron's conservative regime came to a boil when she announced a week ago that she would not approve wage increases ranging up to 130 per cent which the unions had negotiated to counter inflation, now exceeding 110 per cent a year. She said no increases above 50 per cent would be ratified.

The CGT ordered its 3.5 million members out at midnight Sunday for 48 hours in support of its demand for approval of all negotiated wage increases. It also demanded the ouster of Lopez Rega, who is social welfare minister and Mrs. Peron's private secretary, and Rodrigo.

The two men and the other six members of the cabinet submitted their resignations Sunday night. But when Mrs. Peron gave no indication whether she would accept them, the labor leaders went ahead with the walkout.

The strike brought the country of 24 million people to a standstill. Industry, commerce, public transport, government offices, entertainment and the media all were shut down. The only violence reported was three bomb explosions, one of which seriously injured a highway patrolman checking for arms and explosives.

To many who took demonstration rides here the Jetfoil also suggested a plane, and in fact there are marked similarities.

The submerged hydrofoil beneath the struts is like the wing of an airplane, and the 3,000-horsepower engines do essentially the same thing with water that a jet aircraft engine does with air.

Passengers sit in a two-level air-conditioned cabin complete with airline-style seats, fold-down trays and attendants to serve food. The ocean swells and chop pass beneath the hull, and the motion the passenger feels is more like a plane in flight turbulence than a ship at sea.

The smooth ride is aided by a computer-controlled automatic pilot.

"In effect the skipper operates the vessel by telling the computers which direction he wants to go, at what speed and at what height," says Muller. "The computers do all the rest. The skipper and co-pilot really only serve as lookouts."

In swells higher than eight feet the automatic pilot follows the rise and fall slightly. When a swell reached 20 feet the Jetfoil begins to pitch and dive, officials say. But they note that sea that heavy is rare even in Hawaiian waters, which are generally rougher than most areas where the Jetfoil could be used for tourists or commuters.

Because of its nearly waveless wake the Jetfoil can be used close to shore and in tight channels, Seafite officials say. They maintain that it is extremely safe.

New Winners Feature Action On Atomic Speedway Card

The largest crowd of the season, with the "standing room only" sign out, was treated to the Firecracker Championship's 40 lap feature races in the sprint and late model divisions, plus the 25 lap hobby stock feature Saturday night. It was certainly a night of firsts, with all feature events going to first time winners this year.

In the late models it was Dick Debolt, Union City, Ind., becoming the eventual winner but not without a stiff contest with Paul Coyan, Jackson. Skip Waterman, No. 0, starting in the pole position grabbed the lead and remained there until Debolt, No. 12, took over on the 13th lap. Waterman trailed Debolt for 5 laps when car No. 17, Paul Coyan, came into contention and took over the 2nd place.

On the 26th lap Debolt and Coyan got together and came down the straightaway side by side with Coyan trying to pass Debolt on the high side. They both ended up in turn 1 with Coyan's Camaro bouncing off the wall and out of the race. This let Bobby Oney move into second to pressure the leader a few times with little success and he settled for the No. 2 spot with Moe Beeler running third, Skip Waterman, fourth, and Bill Wampler, fifth. The heat winners were Frank Britton, Joe Teeters, and Bill Hayes.

Another first was Charlie Schwartz, Dayton, Ohio, in the William Construction sprinter from Bellbrook, who took the super sprint feature. Charlie is a rookie in the sprint division this year and certainly one of the most promising. Second was Bob Carrico another up and coming young sprint star. He was followed by Jim Wical, Tim Dussell, and Charlie McCann. Schwartz had fast time for the evening and was awarded an accessory gift of a case of Oilzum Racing Oil, courtesy of Miller Sales and Service of Chillicothe. Heat wins went to C. J. Holley and Bob Carrico.

The hobby stock feature was a hotly contested race between the winner Dave Williams, his first for the season, and 2nd place Jim Taylor, and 3rd Fred Payne. In the early stages, Charlie Seymour lead with Williams in hot pursuit, but Seymour had to retire from the race with suspension problems.

Williams got out of shape and Taylor took over on the 19th lap, but Williams found the groove again and regained his position on lap 21. Then he pulled away for the win leaving Taylor and Payne battling for the 2nd spot. Larry Brisker settled for fourth and Jim Vulgamore, fifth. Heat winners were Jerry Engle, Larry Jett, and Charlie Seymour.

On the card for next Saturday night will be regular races with three classes and coming up on July 26, the Mid-Season Championship featuring the sprints, late models, and hobby stocks.

Brewers, Bosox Post Wins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

AP Sports Writer

Milwaukee's Bob Sheldon and Boston's Jim Willoughby, who were in the minors last week, made major contributions to their new teams Monday night.

Second baseman Sheldon, who committed a costly error in the fourth inning, singled home one run in the fifth and two more in the sixth, lifting the Brewers to a 4-3 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Meanwhile, Willoughby came in in the seventh inning of the Red Sox' 6-3 triumph over the Minnesota Twins, struck out Eric Soderholm with two runners aboard and went on to earn his first save, fanning five in 21-3 innings.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees defeated the Texas Rangers 5-2 to remain one game behind Boston and one percentage point ahead of Milwaukee in the East Division, the Oakland A's trimmed the Cleveland Indians 7-3 and the Detroit Tigers edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Baltimore and California were not scheduled.

Sheldon's error helped Kansas City score all three runs in the fourth inning — two on a single by Cookie Rojas — for a 3-1 lead, but he made up for it with his clutch hits off Al Fitzmorris.

Red Sox 6, Twins 3

Jim Rice belted a three-run homer as the Red Sox scored four times off Jim Hughes in the first inning. Jim Burton, who relieved Rick Wise in the seventh, issued a single and walk, putting two Minnesota runners aboard and bringing up the dangerous Soderholm. Willoughby not only struck out Soderholm to end that inning, but fanned him again to end the game after the Twins scored a run in the ninth.

Yankees 5, Rangers 2

Home runs by Roy White, Graig Nettles and Jim Mason and run-scoring singles by Nettles and Rich Coggins rallied the Yankees to victory after Texas nicked Doc Medich for both their runs in the first inning on Jeff Burroughs' two-run single.

A's 7, Indians 3

Jim Perry pitched six shutout innings, Joe Rudi hit two home runs and Billy Williams hit one for Oakland. The 38-year-old Perry, who came to the A's in a trade with Cleveland earlier in the season, won his second game in three decisions with Oakland and boosted his overall record to 3-7. He allowed one run on six hits, struck out four and didn't walk a batter in 7 1-3 innings before giving way to Rollie Fingers.

Tigers 2, White Sox 1

Tom Walker, 3-6, scattered eight hits and outdueled Chicago's Jim Kaat, 13-5, who was named to the AL All-Star team earlier in the day. The only run off Walker, 3-6, was Ken Henderson's homer in the second inning. Detroit scored both runs in the fourth on Gary Sutherland's single, Leon Roberts' triple and Willie Horton's sacrifice fly. It was the Tigers' sixth consecutive triumph.

Jim Perry Tops Tribe

OAKLAND (AP) — Pitcher Jim Perry of the Oakland A's says he doesn't get any special satisfaction out of beating his former teammates, the Cleveland Indians.

Perry defeated the Indians 7-3 at the Oakland Coliseum Monday night with relief help from Rollie Fingers in the seventh inning.

"The big thing for me is just winning. I don't care who I beat," Perry said. His record for the season now is 3-7.

Perry held the Indians to two hits until the sixth inning, when Cleveland got two more.

"I'm glad I stayed in the game long enough to win," Perry said. "My teammates told me if I held them, they would score some runs for me."

The A's had failed to score in 19 consecutive innings before they broke loose with three runs in the second inning against starter and loser Dennis Eckersley.

Reggie Jackson singled and Billy Williams followed with a home run, his 10th of the season.

A walk to Gene Tenace, a stolen base and a single by Phil Garner made it 3-0.

Joe Rudi accounted for most of the remaining runs with a pair of homers, one in the sixth inning and the other in the eighth.

Rudi now has 11 homers for the season and ended an 0-for-12 slump.

Reds Shell Phillies; Win 7-3

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer

The Big Red Machine is in high gear, rolling along so smoothly that even the man at the controls can't quite believe it.

"It's incredible," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson after his Reds' latest triumph, a 7-3 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies Monday night. That gave Cincinnati four wins in a row, seven in the last eight games and an amazing record of 35 victories in 44 outings dating back to May 21.

"No one is supposed to win like that," added Anderson. But the Reds are doing it, and as a result have opened a gaping 8½-game bulge over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League West.

Elsewhere in the National League,

the Pittsburgh Pirates blanked the Chicago Cubs 5-0, the New York Mets beat the Atlanta Braves 3-1, the Houston Astros defeated the Montreal Expos 5-1 and the St. Louis Cardinals outscored the San Francisco Giants 8-6.

What turned the Reds, stumbling along at the .500 mark seven weeks ago, into the winningest team in the majors?

"You've got to go back to the move — shifting Pete Rose to third," said Anderson. "It's not just that one thing, but that set off a lot of other things that happened. Getting George Foster's bat in there has been tremendous."

Foster got his 15th homer against the Phils, a two-run shot over the center field fence in the seventh inning that broke the game open.

Pitchers Chosen For All-Star Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mike Marshall, last year's Cy Young Award winner, and two other Dodgers have been named to the nine-man National League All-Star pitching staff to face eight American League hurlers in the July 15 All-Star Game.

Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston on Monday announced his choice of Marshall, honored last year for his consistent relief pitching efforts, along with Dodger starting pitchers Andy Messersmith and Don Sutton, 12-8, to the National League All-Stars, who have won three straight mid-season classics.

Alston, manager of the National League All-Star team, also named Tom Seaver and southpaw teammate Jon Matlack of New York, left-hander Tug McGraw of Philadelphia, lefty Randy Jones of San Diego, southpaw Jerry Reuss of Pittsburgh and Phil Niekro of Atlanta.

The four National League southpaws and five right-handers will face an American League pitching crew including Vida Blue and Rollie Fingers of Oakland, Catfish Hunter of New York, Jim Kaat and Rich Gossage of Chicago, Nolan Ryan of California, Jim Palmer of Baltimore and Steve Busby of Kansas City.

All but two of the National League choices are repeaters on the All-Star squad. The exceptions are southpaws Jones and Reuss. Seaver's selection marks his eighth return to the squad.

Of the American League All-Star choices for the midseason classic at Milwaukee's County Stadium, Fingers, Hunter and Busby are repeaters from last year.

Seaver had the best winning percentage among the NL pitchers with a 12-4 record and an ERA of 1.85. Messersmith was 12-5 with a 2.08 average and Jones showed an 11-5 record and a stingy 1.77 ERA.

Messersmith leads the league in strikeouts with 122, followed by Seaver's 120 and Sutton's 118.

Marshall, who has a 3-5 record with four saves, and McGraw, 5-4 with eight saves, are the only two relief specialists representing the NL.

Reuss' record is 9-6 and Niekro's record is 8-7.

Women's Amateur Golf Tournament Opens

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The 52nd annual Ohio Women's Amateur Golf Tournament opened today at Toledo Country Club with several former titlists set to challenge defending champion Sandra Jones of Cincinnati Terrace Park.

Two-time winner Mrs. Don Peppard of Canton Brookfield captured medalist honors in the qualifying round Monday with a one-over-par 74 on the 5,828-yard layout.

Red Viking Victorious In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Red Viking took the lead at the three-quarter pole and dashed to a 1¼-length victory in the featured race at Scioto Downs Monday night.

The winner, covering the mile in 2:05, returned $8.40, $3.40 and $2.60. Early Retirement paid $3.40 and $2.60 for second and Racealot, $3 for show.

The 4-8 daily double combination of Moon Drop and Jeffs Pretty Boy was worth $99.80.

A crowd of 4,313 wagered $266,153.

Preakness winner Master Derby is the son of Dust Commander, winner of the 1970 Kentucky Derby.

But the big blast of the game came in the first inning, off the bat of Tony Perez. The Reds' slugging first baseman got hold of a Steve Carlton delivery and deposited it in the upper tier of Riverfront Stadium, more than 500 feet away.

Astros 5, Expos 1

Houston got only four hits against Montreal, but all came in the fourth inning when the Astros sent 10 men to the plate and scored all their runs. Wilbur Howard's two-run single capped the uprising in support of Larry Dierker, who scattered eight hits.

Mets 3, Braves 1

Home runs by Rusty Staub and Dave Kingman backed the six-hit pitching of rookie Hank Webb, who posted his second major league victory — both over Atlanta.

"I needed this game," said Webb. "It's my first complete game in the big leagues, and it builds my confidence."

There are such good pitchers on this staff, when I get in I like to contribute."

Cards 8, Giants 6

Ted Simmons drove in three runs and Luis Melendez' triple highlighted a four-run first inning for the Cards, who collected six hits off Giants starter Mike Caldwell, 5-8, in the opening inning.

Afterwards, Giants Manager Wes Westrum became enraged at a question put to him by a local reporter, shouted and cursed at the writer and had him ejected from the San Francisco clubhouse.

Pirates 5, Cubs 0

Al Oliver belted a three-run homer and Ken Brett, Ramon Hernandez and Dave Giusti combined to stop the Cubs on five hits, all singles.

It was the 14th game in 11 days between the two clubs, and the Pirates won 11 of the meetings.

Brewers, Bosox Post Wins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

AP Sports Writer

Milwaukee's Bob Sheldon and Boston's Jim Willoughby, who were in the minors last week, made major contributions to their new teams Monday night.

Second baseman Sheldon, who committed a costly error in the fourth inning, singled home one run in the fifth and two more in the sixth, lifting the Brewers to a 4-3 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

Meanwhile, Willoughby came on in the seventh inning of the Red Sox' 6-3 triumph over the Minnesota Twins, struck out Eric Soderholm with two runners aboard and went on to earn his first save, fanning five in 21-3 innings.

Elsewhere in the American League, the New York Yankees defeated the Texas Rangers 5-2 to remain one game behind Boston and one percentage point ahead of Milwaukee in the East Division, the Oakland A's trimmed the Cleveland Indians 7-3 and the Detroit Tigers edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Baltimore and California were not scheduled.

Sheldon's error helped Kansas City score all three runs in the fourth inning — two on a single by Cookie Rojas — for a 3-1 lead, but he made up for it with his clutch hits off Al Fitzmorris.

Red Sox 6, Twins 3

Jim Rice belted a three-run homer as the Red Sox scored four times off Jim Hughes in the first inning. Jim Burton, who relieved Rick Wise in the seventh, issued a single and walk, putting two Minnesota runners aboard and bringing up the dangerous Soderholm. Willoughby not only struck out Soderholm to end that inning, but fanned him again to end the game after the Twins scored a run in the ninth.

Yankees 5, Rangers 2

Home runs by Roy White, Graig Nettles and Jim Mason and run-scoring singles by Nettles and Rich Coggins rallied the Yankees to victory after Texas nicked Doc Medich for both their runs in the first inning on Jeff Burroughs' two-run single.

A's 7, Indians 3

Jim Perry pitched six shutout innings, Joe Rudi hit two home runs and Billy Williams hit one for Oakland. The 38-year-old Perry, who came to the A's in a trade with Cleveland earlier in the season, won his second game in three decisions with Oakland and boosted his overall record to 3-7. He allowed one run on six hits, struck out four and didn't walk a batter in 7 1-3 innings before giving way to Rollie Fingers.

Tigers 2, White Sox 1

Tom Walker, 3-6, scattered eight hits and outdueled Chicago's Jim Kaat, 13-5, who was named to the AL All-Star team earlier in the day. The only run off Walker, 3-6, was Ken Henderson's homer in the second inning. Detroit scored both runs in the fourth on Gary Sutherland's single, Leon Roberts' triple and Willie Horton's sacrifice fly. It was the Tigers' sixth consecutive triumph.

Jim Perry Tops Tribe

OAKLAND (AP) — Pitcher Jim Perry of the Oakland A's says he doesn't get any special satisfaction out of beating his former teammates, the Cleveland Indians.

Perry defeated the Indians 7-3 at the Oakland Coliseum Monday night with relief help from Rollie Fingers in the seventh inning.

"The big thing for me is just winning. I don't care who I beat," Perry said. His record for the season now is 3-7.

Perry held the Indians to two hits until the sixth inning, when Cleveland got two more.

"I'm glad I stayed in the game long enough to win," Perry said. "My teammates told me if I held them, they would score some runs for me."

The A's had failed to score in 19 consecutive innings before they broke loose with three runs in the second inning against starter and loser Dennis Eckersley.

Reggie Jackson singled and Billy Williams followed with a home run, his 10th of the season.

A walk to Gene Tenace, a stolen base and a single by Phil Garner made it 3-0.

Joe Rudi accounted for most of the remaining runs with a pair of homers, one in the sixth inning and the other in the eighth.

Rudi now has 11 homers for the season and ended an 0-for-12 slump.

Reds Shell Phillies; Win 7-3

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer

The Big Red Machine is in high gear, rolling along so smoothly that even the man at the controls can't quite believe it.

"It's incredible," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson after his Reds' latest triumph, a 7-3 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies Monday night. That gave Cincinnati four wins in a row, seven in the last eight games and an amazing record of 35 victories in 44 outings dating back to May 21.

"No one is supposed to win like that," added Anderson. But the Reds are doing it, and as a result have opened a gaping 8½-game bulge over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League West.

Elsewhere in the National League,

the Pittsburgh Pirates blanked the Chicago Cubs 5-0, the New York Mets beat the Atlanta Braves 3-1, the Houston Astros defeated the Montreal Expos 5-1 and the St. Louis Cardinals outscored the San Francisco Giants 8-6.

What turned the Reds, stumbling along at the .500 mark seven weeks ago, into the winningest team in the majors?

"You've got to go back to the move — shifting Pete Rose to third," said Anderson. "It's not just that one thing, but that set off a lot of other things that happened. Getting George Foster's bat in there has been tremendous."

Foster got his 15th homer against the Phils, a two-run shot over the center field fence in the seventh inning that broke the game open.

Pitchers Chosen For All-Star Tilt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mike Marshall, last year's Cy Young Award winner, and two other Dodgers have been named to the nine-man National League All-Star pitching staff to face eight American League hurlers in the July 15 All-Star Game.

Los Angeles Manager Walter Alston on Monday announced his choice of Marshall, honored last year for his consistent relief pitching efforts, along with Dodger starting pitchers Andy Messersmith and Don Sutton, 12-8, to the National League All-Stars, who have won three straight mid-season classics.

Alston, manager of the National League All-Star team, also named Tom Seaver and southpaw teammate Jon Matlack of New York, left-hander Tug McGraw of Philadelphia, lefty Randy Jones of San Diego, southpaw Jerry Reuss of Pittsburgh and Phil Niekro of Atlanta.

The four National League southpaws and five right-handers will face an American League pitching crew including Vida Blue and Rollie Fingers of Oakland, Catfish Hunter of New York, Jim Kaat and Rich Gossage of Chicago, Nolan Ryan of California, Jim Palmer of Baltimore and Steve Busby of Kansas City.

All but two of the National League choices are repeaters on the All-Star

Red Viking Victorious In Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Red Viking took the lead at the three-quarter pole and dashed to a 1¼-length victory in the featured race at Scioto Downs Monday night.

The winner, covering the mile in 2:05, returned $8.40, $3.40 and $2.60. Early Retirement paid $3.40 and $2.60 for second and Racealot, $3 for show.

The 4-8 daily double combination of Moon Drop and Jeffs Pretty Boy was worth $99.80.

A crowd of 4,313 wagered $266,153.

Preakness winner Master Derby is the son of Dust Commander, winner of the 1970 Kentucky Derby.

But the big blast of the game came in the first inning, off the bat of Tony Perez. The Reds' slugging first baseman got hold of a Steve Carlton delivery and deposited it in the upper tier of Riverfront Stadium, more than 500 feet away.

Astros 5, Expos 1

Houston got only four hits against Montreal, but all came in the fourth inning when the Astros sent 10 men to the plate and scored all their runs. Wilbur Howard's two-run single capped the uprising in support of Larry Dierker, who scattered eight hits.

Mets 3, Braves 1

Home runs by Rusty Staub and Dave Kingman backed the six-hit pitching of rookie Hank Webb, who posted his second major league victory — both over Atlanta.

"I needed this game," said Webb. "It's my first complete game in the big leagues, and it builds my confidence."

There are such good pitchers on this staff, when I do get in I like to contribute."

Cards 8, Giants 6

Ted Simmons drove in three runs and Luis Melendez' triple highlighted a four-run first inning for the Cards, who collected six hits off Giants starter Mike Caldwell, 5-8, in the opening inning.

Afterwards, Giants Manager Wes Westrum became enraged at a question put to him by a local reporter, shouted and cursed at the writer and had him ejected from the San Francisco clubhouse.

Chemist Gets Protein From Oats

RACINE, Wis. (AP) — In the continuing quest for new sources of protein, a University of Wisconsin chemist has developed a method of extracting protein from oats.

Wisconsin Agriculturist, a rural magazine, reports that Vernon Youngs is able to extract protein from oats by a simple method in which water is the only chemical used. Youngs hulls the oats and then mills them into flour and bran. He then makes a water slurry of the oat flour and the bran and centrifuges the mixtures. Each yields a high protein layer of more than 50 per cent protein, which could be used to fortify snack foods and bread. A side benefit is a residue bran that is about 19 per cent protein and could be used in breakfast cereals.

The word textiles comes from a Latin word meaning to weave. Textiles refers to all kinds of cloth made from weaving.

NEW YORK (AP) — Vo Huynh and Vo Suu are brothers. Formerly of North Vietnam and Saigon, they helped NBC News film the story of the war in Vietnam for 14 and 10 years, respectively.

Last April, they became refugees for the second time in their lives. NBC evacuated them, 11 other Vietnamese staffers and their families from Saigon shortly before it fell to North Vietnamese troops.

Now the Vo brothers share an apartment in the Bronx. On weekends, they rejoin their families — Huynh has six kids, Suu four — at the small Vietnamese colony where their families live in Annapolis, Md.

A sad ending? Nope. A fresh start for the brothers. They've just begun working again for NBC here, vo Huynh as an assistant cameraman, Vo Suu as a soundman, covering the stories of life in peacetime America.

They say they prefer that their families live in Annapolis because costs are lower, the pace far slower than New York, and most importantly, life among their own people cushions their adjustment to American ways.

While not ideal, it's the best compromise, according to the brothers, whom I first met and came to know while on assignment in Vietnam in 1969. Both were NBC cameramen then.

Huynh, 44, a laconic, pipe-smoking man, was regarded by many newsmen covering the war as one of the best, coolest and smartest news cameramen in the business, and the people who give awards agreed.

In 1966, he won an Emmy for his work on a combat documentary, "Same Mud, Same Blood," and later won a George Polk Memorial award for his filming of a battle reported by Ron Nessen, now chief White House spokesman.

Suu, 38, also was well-regarded by his colleagues, but wasn't as well-known, perhaps because Vo Huynh's reputation overshadowed him.

But among other things, he was the sole network cameraman to film one of the war's most shocking moments — the summary execution of a Viet Cong prisoner by Brig. Gen. Nguyen Ngoc Loan, South Vietnam's national police chief, during the bloody Tet offensive of 1968.

The brothers, whose parents still live in North Vietnam, say they fled south with some 40 relatives in 1954 when Vietnam was partitioned at the end of the French Indochina war.

They said they left South Vietnam last April because they felt the Communists would seek them out and jail them — or kill them — for having worked for an American organization.

Huynh, who doesn't lack for guts, as anyone familiar with his close-up combat footage will agree, said he'd wanted to leave Vietnam "a long, long time ago" but not because he wanted a safer assignment.

He said he'd felt, even during the massive U.S. military effort in Vietnam, that "even if they did have a coalition government the Viet Cong would control it in several years. I knew I had to leave."

"I wanted to stay," Suu said. "But finally I had to leave. We understand the Communists a lot. We cannot live with them."

Missouri became the 24th state on Aug. 10, 1821.

KIWANIS SPEAKER—Walter Hall, right, discusses a portion of his presentation with Ray Cundiff, acting president of the Circleville Kiwanis Club in the absence of Charles Reid. Hall told the Kiwanians, in their Monday night meeting, of his trip through Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, France, and England during the summer of 1974.

TOURNEY WINNER—Jim Shea, left, receives a trophy for winning the Kiwanis-sponsored chess tournament. Making the presentation is Bruce Bell. Shea won the tournament "by default," according to Kiwanians.

PICCA Schedules Rural Transportation

A recent meeting of the Pickaway County Program Planning Task Force was held at the PICCA office.

Vera Saunders, representing the Senior Citizens, was elected chairman; Greg Bigam, representing the County Commissioners, was elected vice-chairman; and, Beverly Bechtel, representing the Cooperative Extension Services, was elected secretary.

The purpose of this group is to offer county agencies and organizations the opportunity to pool resources, efforts and planning to provide needed programs to county residents, without duplication. Others present were Sharyn Blecha of Family Planning; Sharon Eyerman, Information and Referral; Leo Kahanek, Health Department; Sam Dettra, Mike Melson and Melody Wilson of the PICCA office; Marsha Schenider of Volunteers for Youth, and Etha Mae Wolford of the American Red Cross.

During the session, many programs benefiting all county citizens were reported and discussed. Sharon Eyerman reported on the progress of the Information and Referral system. Any county resident needing help or information should call the I & R number 474-1666. Melody Wilson reported details of the Title XX program.

Mike Melson made known to the group the plans for a countywide rural transportation bus which has been purchased through the PICCA program. A schedule for the bus has been completed and will be released to the public.

The twelve passenger bus will travel to a different part of the county each day of the week, twice a day. Friday is reserved for "demand" calls.

The bus is available to any rural persons needing transportation to the Circleville area and will make stops in or near most of the small communities throughout the county. Fare donation will be charged, but no one will be denied transportation. The Senior Citizens Center is helping finance gasoline funds. PICCA representatives stressed that this program is an energy-saving plan for the benefit of all county residents.

The group discussed problems related to establishing a much needed ambulatory clinic in our county. Many people on Medicaid often must go to Columbus to receive any medical service. It was pointed out that presently it seems the only possible funds for such a clinic would be local financing or some federal support. Local support for such a clinic is needed. Most counties the size of Pickaway have an ambulatory clinic.

Names Omitted

First place winners in the Ashville Fourth of July most unusual contest were omitted in Saturday's edition of The Herald.

The winners were, Kevin Craig, Annette Nicholson and Shelly Muncy, all members of the group, "Spirit of '76".

95 Accidents Investigated During June

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated 95 accidents during the month of June, raising 1975's total to 569.

One of the accidents was a fatal and 40 persons were injured in 27 accidents.

Failure to yield the right of way resulted in 17 of the accidents, reckless operation was blamed for 14 accidents, failure to have the car under control and speed resulted in eight wrecks each.

Statistics show that the time period between 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. Saturdays was the most hazardous to drivers.

Circleville and Harrison Twp. recorded 12 accidents each, there were 11 wrecks in Darby Twp. and 10 wrecks in Deercreek Twp.

Their office logged 141 offense reports during June, 41 for breaking and entering, 52 for theft, 45 for vandalism and three miscellaneous.

Deputies also compiled 401 aid and incident reports, 1,884 for the year. Majority of the total were traffic complaints, suspicious cars and persons and miscellaneous calls.

The Department processed 158 papers. Deputies made 111 arrests with 71 prisoners committed. Total prisoners included 46 adult males, seven adult females, 14 male juveniles and four female juveniles.

Meals served to the 71 inmates totaled 1,355 plus 21 prisoners carried over from the previous month.

Deputies traveled 29,782 miles answering complaints, serving process papers and general patrol during June. Telephone calls received numbered 4,589 with 4,413 radio messages sent and received. Of the calls received, 625 requested Sheriff's units.

Missionary Service Set At Faith Chapel

The Rev. Glenn Seymour will be the guest speaker for the monthly missionary service 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at People's Faith Chapel, east on Route 56.

Seymour will tell of his son's, Don Seymour, work in Barbados West Indies.

A Gospel Sing will be held 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the church featuring The Singing Brashears from Phoenix, Ariz. The Tabor Family from Columbus will also provide a special program of music.

The Rev. John DeMint is the pastor of the church.

SERVICE AWARD—Glenna Frazier recently received her 25-year Service Award from Ed Grigg, manager of General Electric Circleville Lamp Plant. She joined the local plant June 12, 1950 as a slimline packer. She presently holds the position of second sealer in the Moduline Department.

Grange News

Edward and Barbara Crites were host for the Pickaway County Grange Youth, Sunday evening with a cookout preceding the meeting.

The recreation for the evening was a baseball game among the Grangers.

The meeting opened with devotions, Psalms 148 by Edward Crites. Four granges were represented at the meeting with final plans for the county fair booth discussed.

The grange will erect booths July 25 at 7 p.m. Also the youth will help Washington Grange to man the gates July 27.

Karen Ewing, candidate for queen and Elaine Pfeiffer, talent contest, were selected to represent the Grange at the fair. Barbara and Brenda Bolender and Randy Wolfe will be attending Grange Camp this week.

The next meeting will be held 6:30 p.m. Aug. 3 at the home of Ernest and Kate Bidwell with a covered-dish supper.

Later in the evening the grange youth returned to the Crites residence and gave Edward and Barbara an old-fashioned belling, a real surprise, which won't be forgotten.

I'm a Precious Chinchilla!!

I am fun to be around and you can raise me for a profit.

INVEST NOW . . . AND START YOUR OWN FAMILY BUSINESS!

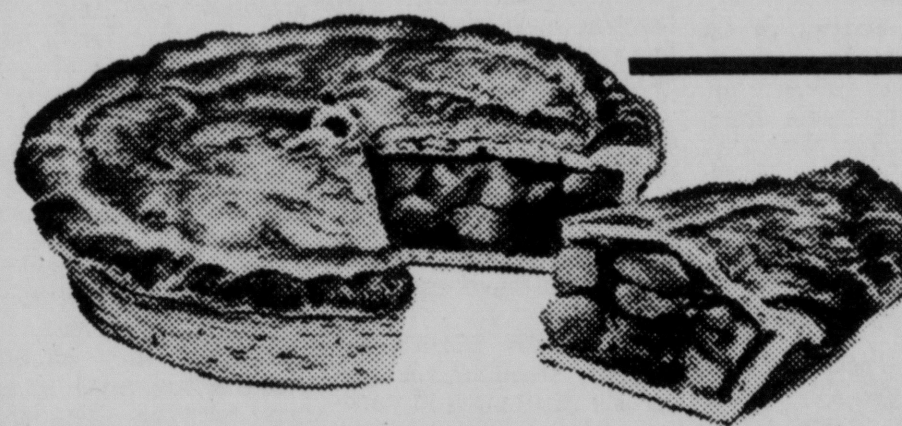

This is all it takes to start your career as a Chinchilla Rancher . . . a love of animals, patience, a desire to have your own business, and a place to start, such as a spare room, garage or basement. Chinchillas are one of the most valuable furs in the world. You can become a part of this fast-growing fur industry. Chinchillas are one of the friendliest and cleanest animals. Being practically all fur they appear larger than they are, consequently they eat very little. They have absolutely no odor, make very little noise and are gentle and easy to raise. . . all is indoors and not affected by weather conditions, outside. Education, training and marketing is available. Chinchillas are a sound investment. This is not an overnight get rich scheme. You can start as small as you like and grow eventually into full time if you desire.

KIWANIS SPEAKER—Walter Hall, right, discusses a portion of his presentation with Ray Cundiff, acting president of the Circleville Kiwanis Club in the absence of Charles Reid. Hall told the Kiwanians, in their Monday night meeting, of his trip through Germany, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, France, and England during the summer of 1974.

TOURNEY WINNER—Jim Shea, left, receives a trophy for winning the Kiwanis-sponsored chess tournament. Making the presentation is Bruce Bell. Shea won the tournament "by default," according to Kiwanians.

PICCA Schedules Rural Transportation

A recent meeting of the Pickaway County Program Planning Task Force was held at the PICCA office.

Vera Saunders, representing the Senior Citizens, was elected chairman; Greg Bigam, representing the County Commissioners, was elected vice-chairman; and, Beverly Bechtel, representing the Cooperative Extension Services, was elected secretary.

The purpose of this group is to offer county agencies and organizations the opportunity to pool resources, efforts and planning to provide needed programs to county residents, without duplication. Others present were Sharyn Blecha of Family Planning; Sharon Eyerman, Information and Referral; Leo Kahanek, Health Department; Sam Dettra, Mike Melson and Melody Wilson of the PICCA office; Marsha Schenider of Volunteers for Youth, and Etha Mae Wolford of the American Red Cross.

During the session, many programs benefiting all county citizens were reported and discussed. Sharon Eyerman reported on the progress of the Information and Referral system. Any county resident needing help or information should call the I & R number 474-1666. Melody Wilson reported details of the Title XX program.

Mike Melson made known to the group the plans for a countywide rural transportation bus which has been purchased through the PICCA program. A schedule for the bus has been completed and will be released to the public.

The twelve passenger bus will travel to a different part of the county each day of the week, twice a day. Friday is reserved for "demand" calls.

The bus is available to any rural persons needing transportation to the Circleville area and will make stops in or near most of the small communities throughout the county. Fare donation will be charged, but no one will be denied transportation. The Senior Citizens Center is helping finance gasoline funds. PICCA representatives stressed that this program is an energy-saving plan for the benefit of all county residents.

The group discussed problems related to establishing a much needed ambulatory clinic in our county. Many people on Medicaid often must go to Columbus to receive any medical service. It was pointed out that presently it seems the only possible funds for such a clinic would be local financing or some federal support. Local support for such a clinic is needed. Most counties the size of Pickaway have an ambulatory clinic.

Names Omitted

First place winners in the Ashville Fourth of July most unusual contest were omitted in Saturday's edition of The Herald.

The winners were, Kevin Craig, Annette Nicholson and Shelly Muncy, all members of the group, "Spirit of '76".

95 Accidents Investigated During June

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated 95 accidents during the month of June, raising 1975's total to 569.

One of the accidents was a fatal and 40 persons were injured in 27 accidents.

Failure to yield the right of way resulted in 17 of the accidents, reckless operation was blamed for 14 accidents, failure to have the car under control and speed resulted in eight wrecks each.

Statistics show that the time period between 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. Saturdays was the most hazardous to drivers.

Circleville and Harrison Twp. recorded 12 accidents each, there were 11 wrecks in Darby Twp. and 10 wrecks in Deercreek Twp.

Their office logged 141 offense reports during June, 41 for breaking and entering, 52 for theft, 45 for vandalism and three miscellaneous.
